University awards: Notice

This issue of the Reporter gives details of the Studentships, Scholarships, Prizes, and other awards announced for competition during the current academical year.

Tutors and prospective candidates are reminded that they should examine each of the five sections of this issue. Section A (University Awards: General, and related to more than one subject), and Section E (Awards offered by other bodies), include a large number of awards for which candidates with particular interests may be eligible, and should be studied in addition to Sections B, C, and D. There are certain awards which it has not been possible to include in this issue; notices relating to these may appear from time to time in ordinary numbers of the Reporter.

The Registry wishes to draw the attention of candidates and their advisers to the general regulations for awards (Statutes and Ordinances, 2009, p. 735). Extracts from these regulations, containing the provisions most directly relevant to candidates, are reproduced below. Particular attention is drawn to Regulation 4, which governs the eligibility of Affiliated Students and Graduate Students.

GENERAL REGULATIONS FOR AWARDS

1. Competition for any University Studentship, Scholarship, Exhibition, Prize, Medal, or other such award shall be restricted to candidates who are actual members of the University unless there is clear evidence of a contrary intention in the regulations or document governing the award. Whenever by any regulation for any award it is required that an application or an entry be submitted to the Registry or to some other person by a certain date that regulation shall be interpreted as requiring that the application or entry shall be sent so as to reach the Registry or other person not later than that date.

4. (a) For the purpose of these regulations an Affiliated Student shall be deemed to have kept by residence the three terms next preceding the term in which he or she first resides within the Precincts of the University, and to have been matriculated in the first of those terms.

(b) A person who possesses the status of Master of Arts or Bachelor of Arts shall not at any time be eligible for any University Prize, Scholarship, Studentship, or similar emolument for which only undergraduates are eligible. For the purposes of any regulation respecting the standing of candidates for other emoluments the term in which a person received the status of Master of Arts shall be counted as his or her twentieth term, and the term in which a person received the status of Bachelor of Arts shall be counted as his or her tenth term.

8. Subject to the provisions of any special regulations, the awarders of any University Studentship, Scholarship, or similar award may require that the whole or part of the emolument shall be used for one or more of the following purposes:

- (a) the purchase of books or recordings;
- (b) the purchase of equipment;
- (c) travel abroad.

10. Candidates shall be required to state, generally in a preface to their submitted work, and specifically in notes, the sources from which their information is taken, the extent to which they have availed themselves of the work of others, or have received help and advice from a Director of Studies, Supervisor, or other person, and the portions of the submitted work which are claimed as original.

11. Candidates shall also be required to state in the preface what previous use (if any) has been made of the submitted work, or of any part of it, and whether it has been published in whole or in part; and a Graduate Student shall further be required to state whether and, if so, how, its subject appertains to his or her approved course of research or to work submitted for a degree of the University.

12. No work submitted for a University prize shall be considered which in the opinion of the Examiners or Adjudicators for that prize is substantially the same as work published by the candidate or used by the candidate elsewhere as a thesis for a degree or for a prize before coming into residence in the University; and if part of the work submitted has been so used, or if, in the case of a Graduate Student, the work submitted has already been submitted for a degree of the University, or closely appertains to work which has been so submitted, the Examiners or Adjudicators shall have power to take that circumstance into consideration in making their award.

13. Regulations 11 and 12 shall not apply to the Adams Prize, the Harness Prize, or the Raymond Horton-Smith Prize. Regulation 12 shall not apply to the Hare Prize, the Ellen McArthur Prize, the Gedge Prize, the Members' History Prize, the Prince Consort Prize, or the Thirlwall Prize.

14. A prize-winner who is required or elects to lay out the whole or part of the value of a prize in the purchase of books, and who is required or desires to have the books stamped with the arms of the University, shall submit to the Registry the title of each such book, together with a statement of its price and the cost of special binding if any.

15. The Registry shall be authorised, after consultation with the Vice-Chancellor, to permit the arms of the University to be stamped on any book of which the title has been submitted in accordance with Regulation 14, and which the Vice-Chancellor has approved, and to issue for each such book a label recording the name and year of the prize and the name and College of the prize-winner; provided that permission shall not be given in respect of a book or books whose cost, including the cost of binding and stamping, exceeds the value of the prize.

18. Wherever the regulations for a prize or other award provide that a copy of the winning exercise shall be deposited in the University Library or in some other place, it shall be the responsibility of the author to ensure that the copy is bound or cased and identified by an inscription on the spine or cover in accordance with instructions given by the Registry. The payment of the emolument shall be withheld until a copy of the exercise has been so deposited.

SECTION A

UNIVERSITY AWARDS

General, and related to more than one subject

Access to Learning Fund: Notice

The Access to Learning Fund (ALF) is provided by government to support students in financial hardship who may need extra financial assistance in order to access and remain in higher education. More specifically, the Fund should be used: to assist those students who need extra financial help to meet particular course and/or living costs that are not already being met from statutory (or other) sources of funding; to provide emergency financial support for unexpected crises; and, to intervene in cases where a student may be considering leaving higher education because of financial problems. The ALF is a discretionary fund; awards (which are generally non-repayable) range from £100 to a maximum of £3,500. The Fund cannot be used to meet the cost of tuition fees for any full-time student; some fee support is available in the case of certain qualifying part-time courses.

Full-time undergraduate and postgraduate students are eligible, as well as part-time students whose courses are at least 50% of full-time (25% in the case of disabled students). The Fund is there to help any eligible student who can demonstrate a particular financial need, according to the guidance laid down by the Department for Business, Innovation & Skills, but the University cannot always meet all of the costs that might be applied for. The priority groups for support are: students with children (especially lone parents); other mature students; students from low-income families; students with disabilities; care leavers; students from Foyers or who are homeless; students receiving the final-year loan rate who are in exceptional financial difficulty; self-funding postgraduates.

The ALF is principally for 'Home' students, but some other categories of student (refugees, persons granted exceptional leave to enter or remain, migrant workers, etc.), including certain EU students who satisfy certain statutory residence requirements, may be eligible. In general, EU students who are eligible only for tuition fee support are not eligible for support from ALF; some EU postgraduates may be eligible for the Fund on the same basis as home students provided that they fully meet the residence requirements in the UK or Islands for the three years before the start of their course.

Application forms are available from college tutorial offices, the CUSU, or GU. Further information about the Fund can be found at <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/univ/funds/access/>.

If you are successful in obtaining another scholarship to cover your fees the award can be used towards your maintenance.

GRADUATE STUDENTSHIPS IN THE APPLICATION OF ENGINEERING IN MEDICINE

The Managers expect in 2010 to elect one or two W. D. Armstrong Studentships, tenable in the University, for full-time postgraduate work in engineering, chemical engineering/biotechnology or medicine.

The holders of the Studentships must undertake a full-time course of postgraduate work in the University approved by the Managers in a field related to the application of engineering in medicine. Applications are encouraged from outstanding candidates with a background in other disciplines who now wish to work in these fields, and from candidates within one of these fields who wish to broaden or change their work to another aspect or aspects of the fields. The Managers will take into account engineering competence and clinical interest and it is also expected that co-supervisors will be identified from both the School of Technology and the School of Clinical Medicine. Applications from candidates who wish to proceed to the Ph.D. Degree or other postgraduate qualification in the relevant field are invited. The Studentships are not normally intended for support of candidates who have already embarked on a course of research leading to a Ph.D.

The Studentships will normally provide full cost support comprising approved College and University fees (at the Home or EU rate as appropriate) and maintenance at the standard EPSRC rate, together with any fee approved by the Managers for training. In fixing the value of the Studentship, account will be taken of other resources available to the student, including other awards held. The Studentships will normally be held, subject to satisfactory progress, for the prescribed duration of the course.

An application form and forms for referees are available from the School of Technology and should be submitted via the Department of Engineering, the Department of Chemical Engineering and Biotechnology, or the School of Clinical Medicine. The closing date for receipt of applications and completed reference forms is 31 January 2010.

Applicants must have applied for a Research Council award if they are eligible. Students who are already in the first year of Ph.D. studies by October 2009 are not eligible to apply. The Ph.D. award makes provision for the University Composition and College Fees plus a maintenance stipend (subject to residency criteria). The M.Phil. award covers fees only at the home/eu rate.

Further information and application details are available to download from the Financial Aid section of the Board of Graduate Studies website (<http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/gradstud/funding/aid/>).

The Committee of Managers of the H. M. Chadwick Fund invite applications for studentships tenable from 1 October 2010 to support study of or research in subjects A and B as listed hereunder. The Fund can make provision only for supplementary support, and the value of the Studentship will be determined in each case by the Committee of Managers, after taking into consideration the amount of any other emoluments received by the applicant. The Committee of Managers may award more than one Studentship. Each Studentship will be tenable for one year in the first instance, and may be renewed and its value reviewed, subject to a maximum tenure of three years. The value of a Studentship does not normally exceed £500. Graduates or research students of any university in the United Kingdom or Eire are eligible for a Studentship, but preference will be given to applicants who are graduates or Graduate Students of this University, or applicants for admission as a Graduate Student.

- B. The same subjects in relation to any people or peoples of the Near East primarily before 1000 BC
- C. The same subjects in relation to any modern primitive people or peoples in respect of their native culture.
- D. Subjects included in the general history or comparative study of civilization, literature, thought, religion, sociology, or art, but subjects which are wholly or mainly concerned with Western Europe since AD 1050 or with the Classical periods of Greece and Rome or of India or with any other period of similarly advanced culture are excluded.

The award of studentships and grants will in general require knowledge of the language or languages involved, but will in general exclude studies of purely linguistic interest, physical anthropology, studies of primarily medical interest, archaeology relating to the Stone Age, or studies wholly concerned with material culture.

An application for a grant or studentship must be made on a prescribed form, available from the Secretary, Department of Anglo-Saxon, Norse, and Celtic, 9 West Road, Cambridge, CB3 9DP, or may be downloaded from the Department's website: <http://www.asnc.cam.ac.uk/currentstudents/grants/index.htm>, and must include a detailed statement describing the project for which support is sought, together with a curriculum vitae of the applicant (for studentships only). Any other emoluments received or expected to be received must be disclosed. All candidates whether applying for a studentship or for a grant, or for both, should provide the referees whose names appear in their applications with copies of a prescribed reference sheet (also available from the Departmental Secretary or Department website).

All applications, whether studentships or grants, should be addressed to the Secretary, Department of Anglo-Saxon, Norse, and Celtic, 9 West Road, Cambridge, CB3 9DP, so as to arrive not later than 1 June 2010. Referees should send completed reference sheets to the same address by 12 June 2010. The Committee of Managers expect to meet to consider applications in late June or early July. All recipients of awards from the Fund will be required to submit brief reports on the work, which they have undertaken in connection with their awards.

Chan Scholarships are available for students from the People's Republic of China who are intending to undertake postgraduate study leading to a Ph.D. Degree of the University in any subject within the School of Arts and Humanities or the School of the Humanities and Social Sciences. Priority shall be given to applicants from provinces or regions other than the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region. The award makes provision for the University Composition and college fees plus a maintenance stipend. Students who are already in the first year of Ph.D. studies are not eligible to apply. Two Grace and Thomas C. H. Chan Scholarships are available annually.

Bartle Frere Exhibitions, Mary Euphrasia Mosley Fund, and Worts Travelling Scholars Fund: Notice

Statutes and Ordinances, 2009, pp. 735, 796, 858, and 958

The Managers of the Mary Euphrasia Mosley Fund invite applications for the following awards:

The Mary Euphrasia Mosley Fund

Candidates must be members of the University who are not of standing to become Masters of Arts.

Bartle Frere Exhibitions

Bartle Frere Exhibitions are awarded annually for study or research in any branch of knowledge relating to a Commonwealth country other than the United Kingdom, Bangladesh, India, or Pakistan. The Managers will give preference to undergraduates but Graduate Students travelling to non-Commonwealth countries or to Bangladesh, India, or Pakistan will also be considered. These grants are made to individuals or expeditions on the basis of recommendations and are therefore not transferable.

The Managers wish to make known that they do not support the following activities: participation in study programmes or language courses (although a contribution towards the costs of course-related work experience abroad may be considered); conferences (either to present a paper or to attend); charitable activities; fieldwork for M.Phil. theses; medical electives; or seeing veterinary practice.

Applicants must state clearly which country or countries they intend to visit.

Applications must be submitted to the Registry, addressed to the Awards Clerk as above. Applicants must ask one person, who may be a Tutor or Director of Studies, to send a supporting letter to the Registry to reach him not later than the closing date. The Managers will meet towards the end of April.

Successful applicants are required to submit a report and a financial report of their expedition to the Secretariat by 1 December annually.

Robert Gardiner Memorial Scholarships: Notice

Statutes and Ordinances, 2009, pp. 735 and 798

The Electors to the Robert Gardiner Memorial Scholarships invite applications for one or more Scholarships tenable from 1 October annually. It is possible that only a small number of Scholarships will be awarded. The academic standard required is high.

The Scholarships are intended to assist or enable students of Irish universities to proceed to the University of Cambridge for the purpose of undergraduate or postgraduate study. The Electors will give preference to applicants who are to study for a research degree, or who are applying for a Master's degree with a view to progressing to research at a later date. Students of any Irish university are eligible.

Every Scholar, if not already a member of the University of Cambridge, will be required to become one before the end of the Michaelmas Term of the year of their election to a Scholarship unless given special permission by the Electors to defer his or her matriculation until a later term, and will be required to become a candidate for a Cambridge degree or to carry out approved research. No Scholar may systematically follow any business or profession or engage in any educational or other work, which in the opinion of the Electors would interfere in any way with his or her course of study. The Scholarships may not, without the permission of the Electors, be held with any other scholarship or studentship in the University, with any office or post in the University, or with any stipendiary College Fellowship.

Students already studying at the University of Cambridge will not normally be funded.

The Scholarship will normally be for one year in the first instance but may be renewed for two further years subject to satisfactory progress.

The value of the Scholarships will be determined by the Electors in the light of the Scholar's circumstances and the funds available. Scholars are paid quarterly in advance; the Electors may withhold payment if they are not satisfied with the diligence or progress of a Scholar.

Applications must be made on forms obtainable from the Registry (addressed to the Awards Clerk), The Old Schools, Cambridge, CB2 1TN. Candidates must also provide an official academic transcript from their University or Head of Department as appropriate. Completed forms must be returned by 20 June each year.

RESEARCH FUND

The College makes grants to Jesus College graduate students, subject to availability up to £500 to help research students in need with a contribution towards expenses of fieldwork, study travel or attendance of conferences. Applications should be made in advance of the expenditure. There are two different funds available:

The Doctoral Research Fund offers support to Ph.D. students for research expenses. This would include financial assistance, as at present, for research visits, to attend conferences or courses and for other journeys which are essential to the student's course. The fund does not cover the purchase or transportation of equipment or other incidentals. A Ph.D. student would not be expected to apply more than once a year.

The Graduate Research Fund offers limited financial assistance for research-related expenses (field trips, archival research or short research placements) normally to those graduates who are currently registered on Master's courses recognised by Research Councils for 1+3 Studentships. Exceptionally, applications to support the preparation of a thesis by Master's students could be considered if adequate supporting evidence is provided to show the relationship of the Master's thesis to doctoral research and/or progression to the doctoral programme. The fund does not cover teaching-related costs (e.g. chemical reagents, equipment, essential photocopying) incurred by students as an integral part of their courses or towards travel on course-organised trips. These are covered by the University fee. Nor would the Fund cover remedial English or foreign language teaching.

THE SIR JAMES KNOTT BURSARIES

The award is for University composition fees at the home rate and applicable College fees. All eligible applicants who by 14 May 2010 have been made a conditional offer of a college place by King's College will be considered. The studentship will have a value sufficient to cover College fees (£2,184) and maintenance (£9,880) for three years for a Ph.D. student or, in the case of an M.Phil. student, one year.

THE LANDER STUDENTSHIP IN THE HISTORY OF ART

The studentship will, if necessary, pay University and College fees, at the home rate, plus a maintenance allowance of £9,880 a year, for a maximum of three years. There is no restriction on subject, but candidates should be aware that the studentship will normally not cover the cost of fees at the overseas rate or of differential fees for Home/EU students on some courses (e.g. Economics). Eligibility is confined to nationals of the fifty 'Least Developed Countries' as defined by the United Nations (<http://www.un.org/special-rep/ohrrls/ldc/list.htm>), most of which are in Africa or South-East Asia. Candidates must also apply concurrently for funding from the Cambridge European, Commonwealth or Overseas Trusts, as appropriate. The award is for one year only and is not renewable.

Peterhouse

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS

The Governing Body of Peterhouse offers annually a number of Research Studentships, open to men or women; if candidates of sufficient merit present themselves, elections into not more than three Studentships may take place in July 2010.

Candidates should have applied to the University of Cambridge Board of Graduate Studies to start study for the degree of Ph.D. Candidates must be graduates of a University in the United Kingdom or elsewhere: if not graduates they should have graduated by August 2010. They must intend to be candidates for the degree of Ph.D. in the University of Cambridge. Tenure of a Studentship is subject to the condition that the elected Student be accepted by the Board of Graduate Studies. Application to the Board is made through the Graduate Admission and Scholarship Application Form.

Application forms for Studentships can be found on the Peterhouse website <http://www.pet.cam.ac.uk> or may be obtained from the Senior Tutor, Peterhouse, Cambridge, CB2 1RD, England. Studentship applications, together with a curriculum vitae, must reach the Senior Tutor not later than 1 April 2010. Graduate Admission and Scholarship Application Forms together with the Graduate Studies Prospectus, may be obtained from the Board of Graduate Studies, 4 Mill Lane, Cambridge, CB2 1RZ.

In awarding Studentships, first consideration will be given to candidates who nominate Peterhouse as their College of first preference in the Graduate Admission and Scholarship Application Form. Studentships may only be held at Peterhouse. To be a candidate for the Studentships it is not necessary first to seek to migrate to Peterhouse. Successful candidates must, however, do so if they are to hold the Studentship.

Studentships will only be awarded to candidates subject to their obtaining satisfactory results in their current final degree examinations.

An elected Student will be required to come into residence in October 2010. The Studentships are subject to reviews of diligence and progress and are renewable annually for up to a maximum of three years' total tenure.

The value of a Studentship will be determined after considering a successful candidate's income from other Studentships or similar sources. A Student without other emoluments of this kind receives a maintenance award set at the value recommended by the Board of Graduate Studies for a home – or an overseas or E.U. registered graduate student as appropriate. A Peterhouse Research Student without other income as described also receives direct payment of certain approved fees by the College on the Student's behalf. The Studentship is thus generally sufficient to cover all fees and basic living expenses. These awards are for study at Peterhouse only.

Graduates of other universities who, at the time of the application, have never been members of the University of Cambridge whether as a graduate student or an undergraduate may be candidates for the External Research Studentships which Trinity College offers every year. A student must be admitted to the University by the Board of Graduate Studies, become a member of Trinity, and intend to be registered as a candidate for the Ph.D. Degree in due course; the student may then hold the Studentship for the normal minimum duration of the course, subject to satisfactory academic progress, and for a maximum of four years in total.

For 2010, eight Studentships may be awarded. Two of these will be attributed to exceptional overseas students in the Natural Sciences and known as the Krishnan-Ang Studentships (see below). Application must also be made to appropriate public bodies for financial support, see website <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/gradstud/funding/aid/overseas.html>. Please check the deadline for applications on this website.

A student who has no support from any other source may expect:

- (a) to have all approved University and College fees paid on her/his behalf;
- (b) to receive an adequate maintenance allowance at a rate determined each year by the College Council and dependent on the current cost of living (for 2009–10 the rate is £12,790 a year); and
- (c) if resident overseas, a return travel allowance.

Further details are available on the Graduate admission pages at: <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships/>.

KRISHNAN-ANG STUDENTSHIPS

In 2010, two three year bursaries, funded by a generous donation from Viswanathan Krishnan (Trinity Matric. 1996) and from Tzo Tze Ang (Trinity Matric. 1997), will be awarded to overseas graduate students in the Natural Sciences.

These bursaries will be equivalent to an External Research Studentship. Candidates should refer to the ERS page at <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships/> and use the application form available at that page.

EASTERN EUROPEAN BURSARIES (ONE-YEAR)

Up to two Bursaries may be awarded each year to citizens of any of the countries which were part of the former USSR or Yugoslavia, as well as Albania and which are not part of the EU, and to citizens of the recent Eastern European members of the European Union.

Applicants for Bursaries should have taken a first-degree course, or equivalent, in their country of origin, and have not yet had a substantial period of study (more than 12 months) outside their own country. The Bursaries are awarded for up to one year and are not renewable. They are intended primarily for students who wish to take a taught postgraduate course in the University of Cambridge, leading to the M.Phil. Degree, the LL.M. Degree, a Diploma or a Certificate. Bursars who wish to stay on to do research for the Ph.D. Degree may compete, towards the end of their year here, for one of Trinity College's Internal Graduate Studentships or for an Eastern European Research Bursary.

Bursars must become members of Trinity College and be accepted by the Board of Graduate Studies for a course in the University. A Bursar who has no support from any other source may expect:

- (a) to have all approved University and College fees paid on her/his behalf;
- (b) to receive an adequate maintenance allowance. (The rate of the allowance is determined each year by the College Council. For 2009–10 the rate for a twelve-month course is £9,280, while the rates for nine, ten, and eleven-month courses are proportionately less, plus a settling in allowance of £325 for non EU students); and
- (c) to receive an allowance covering the cost of travel from the country of origin to the United Kingdom at the commencement of the course and return at the end.

A Bursary does not include a marriage allowance or allowance for dependants.

Applicants should note that a high level of proficiency in the English language is essential for study at Cambridge University. The Board of Graduate Studies will not grant admission to the University without evidence of such proficiency.

EASTERN EUROPEAN RESEARCH BURSARIES

The College offers up to two research bursaries from October 2010 to students from Eastern Europe who are currently studying for (or have already obtained) the M.Phil. or similar degree or are pursuing a comparable one-year postgraduate course in Cambridge, and who wish to go on to the Ph.D. Degree, counting their first year so far as possible towards the time required. These Bursaries are restricted to students who would otherwise be unable to finance their studies, and candidates are expected to have applied to all other sources of financial support open to them.

Bursaries are available to citizens of any of the counties which were part of the former USSR or Yugoslavia, as well as Albania and which are not part of the EU, and to citizens of the recent Eastern European members of the European Union. They must not by October 2010 have studied for more than two years in total outside Eastern Europe. An award will be conditional upon the candidate's being accepted by the Board of Graduate Studies. Application must also be made to appropriate public bodies for financial support, see website <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/gradstud/funding/aid/overseas.html/>. Please check the deadline for applications on this website.

For students from outside the EU, each Bursary will cover University and College fees and a maintenance allowance (currently £12,790 a year), less any financial support received from elsewhere, for the minimum further period required for a Ph.D. Students from Eastern European countries within the EU will be eligible for maintenance-only awards provided that they are holders of a fees-only award from a Research Council or a Domestic Research Studentship. All awards are subject to satisfactory progress. A student who is not already a member of Trinity College must become a member of the College on taking up the Bursary.

Further details are available on the Graduate admission pages at: <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships/>.

KNOX STUDENTSHIPS

Up to three Knox Studentships tenable from 1 October 2010 are offered by Trinity College. Only citizens of France are eligible. A Studentship will cover all fees and a maintenance allowance (currently £12,790 a year for those undertaking a Ph.D. and £9,280 for twelve months for those undertaking the M.Phil., adjusted proportionally for courses of lesser duration), reduced by the amount of any grant from public or comparable sources, for which due application must be made. The maximum tenure is three years, depending on the course of study which the applicant wishes to pursue at Cambridge and subject to satisfactory progress. A successful applicant must become a member of Trinity College on taking up the Studentship.

Tenure is conditional upon the elected Student being accepted by the Board of Graduate Studies to read for a Cambridge postgraduate degree or diploma or to undertake an approved course of research (which may be aiming for a qualification at an institution in France). Application forms and a prospectus giving details of the courses on offer are available on the Board of Graduate Studies website at: <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/univ/gsprospectus/>. The deadline for applications can be as early as 1 January and is 31 January for most one-year courses.

Further details are available on the Graduate admission pages at <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships/>. Completed application forms must be sent so as to arrive in Trinity College not later than 10 February 2010.

PRE-RESEARCH STUDENTSHIP FOR LINGUISTIC STUDY

Trinity College offers each year up to two Studentships of £12,790 (current rate) together with fees and certain allowances, to enable the holder of an AHRC Studentship or similar award to undertake linguistic study, for one year, in preparation for subsequent research. The Studentships are available only to those whose projected subject of research requires a knowledge of some particularly difficult language, and are intended primarily for students wishing to do research in Asian, East European, African or Latin-American studies. For one of the Studentships preference will be given to candidates who wish to study a Slavonic language.

The award will be conditional upon the candidate obtaining an AHRC or similar major research award, and becoming a member of Trinity College. The Studentship may be held first if the holder has permission to defer the tenure of the research award; in other cases it may be held the year after expiry of the major research award.

Further details are available on the Graduate admission pages at: <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships/> and completed application forms must be sent so as to arrive in Trinity College not later than 10 February 2010.

STUDENTSHIPS IN MATHEMATICS (ONE-YEAR)

One-year Studentships are awarded from time to time by Trinity College Council, on the recommendation of the Electors for the External Research Studentships, to Graduates of other universities who wish to undertake research in Mathematics at Cambridge but who are required by the Faculty of Mathematics to take, in the first instance, the course leading to Part III of the Mathematical Tripos and to the Certificate of Advanced Study. On completion of the course for Part III of the Mathematical Tripos, the student will be eligible to compete for an Internal Graduate Studentship at Trinity College in order to undertake research as a candidate for the Ph.D. Degree.

A student who has no support from any other source may expect:

- (a) to have the approved University and College Fees for Part III of the Mathematical Tripos paid on her/his behalf,
- (b) to receive a discretionary allowance for maintenance for the period of the course (plus a settling in allowance of £325 for Overseas students);

For a student from overseas, the allowance will normally be payable at a similar rate as for a British student holding a Research Council award. For a student from Britain, the allowance will normally be arranged so that their financial position is the same as that of a student holding an LEA award to do Part III, but each student's financial circumstances will be taken into account,

- (c) if resident overseas, an allowance to cover the cost of travel from the country of origin to the United Kingdom and return.

Further details are available on the Graduate admission pages at: <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships/>.

RAMANUJAN STUDENTSHIP IN MATHEMATICS

To commemorate the connection between the renowned Indian mathematician Srinivasa Ramanujan and Trinity College, the College hopes to award each year a Srinivasa Ramanujan Studentship in the broad field of Pure or Applied Mathematics to an applicant from India hoping to do research for the Ph.D. Degree in Cambridge.

Graduates of Indian universities who have not already begun residence in Cambridge and who hold a First Class Honours degree or its equivalent are eligible to apply. The Ramanujan Student must become a member of Trinity College and must be accepted by the Board of Graduate Studies for study in the University. He/she will normally be expected in the first instance to take the nine-month course leading to the Certificate of Advanced Study in Mathematic (CAS). On successful completion of the course with a Distinction, and acceptance by the Board of Graduate Studies for registration as a candidate for the Ph.D. Degree, the Student will then have her/his award renewed for up to a further three years, subject to satisfactory progress. Exceptionally a Ramanujan Studentship may be awarded for three years of research only, leading to the Ph.D. Degree, and without the requirement to study in the first instance for the CAS.

A Student who has no support from any other source may expect:

- (a) to have all approved fees paid on her/his behalf;
- (b) to receive an adequate maintenance allowance at a rate determined each year by the College Council (for 2008–09 the rate is £6,960 for the CAS plus a settling in allowance of £325 and £12,790 a year for the Ph.D.);
- (c) to receive allowances covering the costs of travel:
 - (i) from India to the United Kingdom at the commencement of the Studentship,
 - (ii) return to India after the first nine months,
 - (iii) if the Studentship is renewed, travel again to the United Kingdom, and
 - (iv) return to India after completion of the research period.

Applications for the Ramanujan Studentship should be made by submitting a Preliminary Application Form which can be obtained from the Trinity College website: <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships/>.

GRANTS FOR TONGAN STUDENTS FOR POST-GRADUATE STUDY

ARTHRINGTON DAVY FUND

Students, born in Tonga of Tongan parents, who have already taken a first University degree and who wish to engage in post-graduate study at any University in the world, are eligible to be considered for an award to cover the cost or part of the cost of such study, the award being conditional on the applicant's acceptance for such a course by the chosen University. Preference is to be given to those proposing to engage in study or research in subjects likely to contribute significantly to the development of Tonga.

Awards are made from the Arthington-Davy Fund, generously set up by the late Humphrey Augustus Arthington-Davy, British High Commissioner to the Kingdom of Tonga from 1973 to 1980, and left by him to be managed by his Cambridge College, Trinity. The Fund's resources permit only a few awards each year.

Those wishing to commence a course in January/February must apply by the previous 30 November; those wishing to start in September or October must apply by 31 May.

Further details are available on the Graduate admission pages at <http://www.trin.cam.ac.uk/admissions/graduates/studentships>.

The Electors have discretion, in accordance with the expressed wish of the founder, to give preference to a member of Trinity College, Cambridge.

The Studentship is for the study of mathematics or the application of mathematics in a university or equivalent institution outside the British Isles. Preference will be given to a candidate who intends to study at a European university. The Studentship is tenable for a year or lesser period although the Studentship is not normally intended solely for attendance at conferences or summer schools. A successful candidate is not eligible for re-election.

The maximum emolument available is £10,000. The amount to be paid to the successful applicant will be decided by the Electors in the light of information supplied by the candidate as to which university the candidate wishes to visit, for how long, and at what estimated cost.

An application, giving the details required as above and particulars of the candidate's qualifications and proposals for study, should be sent to The Senior Tutor, Trinity College, Cambridge, CB2 1TQ, by 1 March 2010.

Trinity Hall

The College runs an annual Research Studentships and Grants competition, and makes a number of awards. Our decisions are first and foremost made on the basis of academic merit. We are also prepared to take into account financial need, often contributing to an individual's portfolio of funding to make their study at Cambridge possible, though financial considerations are always secondary to demonstrable academic excellence. Such a portfolio may include part scholarships from formal funding and scholarship bodies, private sources of finance, loans, and the like. The Awards therefore have no fixed value. The level of any award will depend upon the College's assessment of the features covered above; primarily, academic promise and secondarily, financial need. It is anticipated that six studentships be awarded in the coming academic year.

We give here the conditions that apply to all, and under each specific heading the conditions that are particular to each fund. All the Trinity Hall awards are open to candidates who:

- (a) are either already members of Trinity Hall or who have made Trinity Hall their college of first preference on the GAF Form; they are tenable uniquely at Trinity Hall, and for as long as a student remains a member of Trinity Hall;

- (b) are (usually first-class) Honours graduates of a respected University or other degree-awarding Institution (including Cambridge); if not already graduates, they should have graduated by August; confirmation of awards may rely on satisfactory results in final degree examinations;
- (c) have been provisionally accepted by their Faculty and by the Board of Graduate Studies to start their study the following academic year. Awards are only tenable by students who begin their course in the Michaelmas Term of the relevant academic year. If we have not received your application by the closing date and you have applied to us for funding, we will defer your application to our reserve list. This means that students should make their applications to the University as early as possible.
- (d) Bursaries and Studentships can be renewed, depending on the length of the initial award; for M.Phil. students supported with a Bursary or Studentship, reapplication is required; for Ph.D. students, renewal is subject to review of diligence and progress, in the form of an annual progress report and accompanying letter of support from the supervisor.

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS

Up to six full-cost (at Home and EU rates) or more part-cost, studentships are awarded annually, covering some or all of the maintenance costs, University and College fees. Trinity Hall does not usually pay the full cost of overseas students who have not been awarded a Cambridge International Scholarship, with the exception of the Trinity Hall Overseas Studentship (as listed below).

RESEARCH AWARDS IN THE ARTS AND HUMANITIES

Research Grants

The Research Grants scheme has four routes of application: standard route; route for speculative research; route for early career researchers; and route for practice-led and applied research. The first three of these routes are intended to support well-defined research projects enabling individual researchers to collaborate with, and bring benefits to, other individuals and organisations through the conduct of research. These routes of the scheme are not intended to support individual scholarship.

The Research Grants: Practice-led and Applied Route has replaced the former Small Grants in Creative and Performing Arts scheme. This route is intended to provide funding for research projects where practice is an integral component; or where it is specifically undertaken with a view to generating outputs and outcomes with a defined application beyond the higher education sector; and/or where it theorises contemporary practice. It accepts proposals with full economic costs of up to £20,000 for up to one year.

Research Leave

Provides salary and associated costs for periods of three or four months, to enable an individual researcher to complete a significant research project by the end of the award period. The employing institution is expected to offer relief from teaching and other duties both in this period and an equivalent period in the term or semester immediately preceding.

Fellowships in the Creative and Performing Arts

Provides support to artists as research fellows within a higher education environment. It provides for the salary of the fellow, who can be appointed on a salary of between £26,000 and £43,500 pro-rata according to their experience, and associated costs. The scheme aims to develop research cultures, collaborations and capacity in the Creative and Performing Arts, and is open only to artists carrying out research in the creative and performing arts where their practice is integral to the research process.

Interdisciplinary Research Networks and Workshops

This scheme is designed to encourage and enable the discussion and development of ideas by researchers across and between disciplines, either through establishing new research networks or by running a series of workshops, seminars or similar events. It accepts proposals with full economic costs of up to £15,000 over one year for workshops and up to £30,000 over two years for networks. For proposals involving participants from countries/regions targeted in the AHRC's International Strategy the upper limit is £30,000 for workshops applications and £60,000 for networks applications.

Strategic Initiatives

Strategic Initiatives address issues of intellectual and wider cultural, social or economic urgency that the Council considers are best supported by concentrated investments.

For more detailed information on schemes, strategic initiatives, and financial arrangements please see the AHRC website: (<http://www.ahrc.ac.uk/>) or contact the Arts and Humanities Research Council at Whitefriars, Lewins Mead, Bristol, BS1 2AE (tel. 0117 987 6500, fax 0117 987 6600).

Cambridge Political Economy Society Trust

(Registered Charity No. 291310)

The CPES Trust was established in 1985 by the Cambridge Political Economy Society (which produces The Cambridge Journal of Economics, The Cambridge Journal of Regions, Economy and Society and Contributions to Political Economy). Its stated aims are (1) to advance the education of the public in political economy and related matters, and (2) to promote research in matters pertaining to political economy and to publish the useful results of such research. The Trustees interpret this to include all studies within the social sciences that are germane to economics, and applications are welcomed from other Faculties.

Fully-funded three-year Research Scholarship

Please note that this scholarship is not being awarded in 2010.

Supplementary Grants

Supplementary grants are made by the Trustees in (1) cases where a modest grant will enable a research student registered for the Ph.D. Degree to complete a Ph.D. dissertation or (2) cases where a small grant may help the procurement of funds from elsewhere. Although all eligible students may apply, priority is normally given to those neering the end of their studies. The current deadlines for applications for supplementary funding are 1 January and 1 July. The Trustees wish to use their funds to support as many students as possible, and therefore expect all candidates who are eligible for public funding (including ORS awards and ESRC Studentships) to have made such applications.

Emergency Funding

The Trustees may make up to six grants annually, to a maximum of £1,000 each. These grants are only for eligible research students who can show that they are in immediate and unanticipated financial need. There is no deadline. Applicants should demonstrate that they have exhausted all other funding possibilities and have no other means of meeting the expenses for which they are applying.

Application forms for supplementary Funding and for Emergency Funding may be obtained from the Chairman of the Trustees, by email cje@econ.cam.ac.uk. Applications should be made by email if at all possible.

John Carter Brown Library

RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS

The John Carter Brown Library, an independently funded and administered institution for advanced research in history and the humanities located in the campus of Brown University, Providence, RI, USA, will award approximately thirty Research Fellowships for the year 1 June 2010 to 31 May 2011. Sponsorship of research at the John Carter Brown Library is reserved exclusively for scholars whose work is centred on the colonial history of the Americas, North and South, including all aspects of the European, African, and Native American involvement. Fellowships are of two types:

- (a) Short-term John Carter Brown Library Fellowships are available for periods of two to four months and carry a stipend of $2,000 per month. These Fellowships are open to American and foreign nationals who are engaged in pre- or postdoctoral, or independent, research. Graduate Students must have passed their preliminary or general examinations at the time of application. A few Fellowships without stipend will be offered every year to highly qualified applicants. Scholars interested in this option must go through the normal application procedure.
- (b) The Library will also receive applications for Long-term Fellowships, several of which are funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), an independent agency of the US Federal Government, and by the Andrew M. Mellon Foundation. Long-term Fellowships are for four to nine months with a stipend of $4,000 per month. The term for these Fellowships will typically begin between 1 June and 15 July or between 15 January and 15 March. Applicants for NEH Long-term Fellowships must be American citizens or have been resident in the United States for the three years immediately preceding the application deadline. Graduate Students are not eligible for Long-term Fellowships.

Recipients of all Fellowships are expected to relocate to Providence and to be in continuous residence at the John Carter Brown Library for the entire term of the award. Applications for all Fellowships will be evaluated by independent academic committees. Fellowships will be awarded on the basis of the applicant's scholarly qualifications, the merits and significance of the project, and the particular need that the holdings of the John Carter Brown Library will fill in the development of the project.

Application forms may be downloaded from the Research and Fellowships link or request application forms from the Director, John Carter Brown Library, Box 1894, Providence, RI 02912, USA. The deadline for mailing application materials is 8 January 2010. Envelopes must be postmarked no later than this date.

Joseph Hodges Choate Memorial Fellowship at Harvard University 2010–11

The Joseph Hodges Choate Memorial Fellowship at Harvard University was established in 1919 by members of the Harvard Club of New York City in memory of Joseph Hodges Choate, US Ambassador to the UK 1899–1905. It is awarded each year by Harvard University on the recommendation of the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, for study in any Department of Harvard University. In making the appointment, however, Harvard University will give heavy preference to candidates who wish to study one of the fields covered by the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences for one year without being registered for a Harvard Degree. The successful candidate will be required to register as a Special Student in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences: the appropriate application forms will be supplied, by Harvard to the successful candidate.

In practice, only candidates from the University of Cambridge are eligible. Under the terms of the trust the Vice-Chancellor of Cambridge may only recommend a candidate from another university if there is no suitable candidate at all from Cambridge. Because of the number of Cambridge candidates each year there is unlikely to be an occasion on which it is open to the Vice-Chancellor to recommend a candidate from a university other than Cambridge. A candidate who is a member of the University of Cambridge must be either (a) a Cambridge B.A., of not more than three years' standing from the time of taking the degree, or (b) a Cambridge undergraduate of not more than four years' standing from the date of matriculation. Candidates must be of British nationality.

Candidates should normally hold, or be likely to achieve, a first class or very good second class degree. However, personal and social qualities are also taken into account in filling the Fellowship.

The Fellowship is usually held for one year, though it is possible in special circumstances for it to be renewed a year at a time for not more than two further years. Reappointment by Harvard University can only be made on a fresh recommendation by the Vice-Chancellor of Cambridge.

The Fellow will receive tuition and health insurance fees, plus a stipend of at least US $23,000 (provisional). The Fellow will be expected to pay for her/his room and board in the Choate Suite at Winthrop House directly, and he/she will also be responsible for the income tax which will be levied against the stipend. The cost of transatlantic travel is met by the Fellow.

Application forms for the Fellowship may be obtained from the Secretariat, University Offices. They must be returned to the Administrative Secretary (addressed to the Awards Clerk), The Old Schools, Cambridge, CB2 1TN, by 1 February 2010.

Entente Cordiale Scholarships

The Clifford and Mary Corbridge Trust

The Corbridge Trust is administered by Robinson College in the University of Cambridge. It aims to promote academic exchanges between Polish and British universities. Awards are made to help Polish scholars pursue their academic interests or complete a research project during their visit to a British university, and in particular to the University of Cambridge. Awards are also available to assist British scholars to visit Poland. The awards will generally cover the whole or part of accommodation costs, meals, and other incidental expenses for the period of the visit and travel expenses equivalent to the cost of one return air fare between the UK and Poland. Visits may be considered for periods of up to twelve months in exceptional cases, but shorter periods are more common and more likely to receive funding. There are no restrictions with respect to the candidate's age or academic discipline. Further details are available from the Director of the Clifford and Mary Corbridge Trust, Dr Barbara Polityńska, Wydział Pedagogiki i Psychologii, Uniwersytet w Białymstoku, ul. Świerkowa 20, 15-328 Białystok, Poland (or via email to corbridgetrust@wp.pl). Further information is also available on the Trust's website at <http://www.robinson.cam.ac.uk/admissions/corbridge.php>.

Council for British Research in the Levant

In 1998 the British Institute at Amman for Archaeology and History and the British School of Archaeology in Jerusalem amalgamated to create the Council for British Research in the Levant (CBRL).

Travel grants will also be available to help students and junior researchers conduct smaller research projects in these subjects in the region.

Senior Visiting Fellowships for postdoctoral scholars and Junior Visiting Research Fellowships for doctoral students are also offered to enable scholars to spend a period of between three and nine months in the countries of the Levant, which must include a minimum of one month residence at the British Institute in Amman or the Kenyon Institute in Jerusalem, in order to undertake research in the humanities and social sciences in the region.

Applications for Research Awards and senior Visiting Research Fellowships are invited from British citizens or those ordinarily resident in the UK. Applications for Travel Grants are invited from British citizens or those ordinarily resident in the UK or registered on a full-time undergraduate or postgraduate degree in a UK university. Application for Junior Visiting Research Fellowships are invited from British citizens or those ordinarily resident in the UK or registered on a full-time doctoral degree in a UK university. The final date for submission of applications for Research Grants should reach the UK Secretary no later than 1 December 2009. The closing date for Travel Grants and Visiting Research Fellowships is 15 January 2010.

The Director of the British Institute, PO Box 519, Jubeiha 11941, Amman, Jordan (email director@cbri.org.uk) may be able to give advice on proposed research in Cyprus, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon, but cannot act as referee. Kurt Hahn Trust: Notice

KURT HAHN TRUST/DAAD SCHOLARSHIP

The German Academic Exchange Service has offered one University of Cambridge Kurt Hahn Trust Scholarship for the academical year 2010–11. The Scholarship will normally be awarded to an outstanding postgraduate student or an undergraduate student at present in his or her final year, of British nationality, who wishes to spend a year in the Republic of Germany on a full course of study or independent research at a university or technical university. The scholarship will comprise of 750 Euros per month for students working towards a Masters degree and 1,000 Euros per month for students working towards a Ph.D. and undertaking postdoctoral research. Successful scholars will also be entitled to an award towards travel costs. Candidates should have a good working knowledge of the German language. Further support for a specialised German language course can be made available as an additional part of the Scholarship. The detailed provisions of the Scholarship can be obtained from <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/international/hahn/> or the Secretary of the Kurt Hahn Trust, 9 Jesus Lane, Cambridge, CB5 8BA (email international@admin.cam.ac.uk). The closing date for receipt of applications is 1 February 2010.

AWARDS FOR STUDY IN GERMANY

The Trustees of the Kurt Hahn Trust offer annual awards in the region of £600–1,000 towards expenses on courses in Germany designed to improve a student's knowledge of the German language and German culture and institutions. Applicants for these grants must be members of the University of Cambridge: either as undergraduate or Graduate Students. Students of German in the Faculty of Modern and Medieval Languages are not eligible. Preference will be given to applicants who have British nationality. Academic merit will not be the only consideration: evidence of more than usual enterprise, breadth of interest, and social awareness will also be considered. Applicants should ask their College Tutor and a Faculty member for references to certify that the award would be of benefit to their academic work. Application forms may be obtained from <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/international/hahn/> or the Secretary of the Kurt Hahn Trust, 9 Jesus Lane, Cambridge, CB5 8BA, to whom applications and references should be sent by 12 March 2010.

AWARDS TO GERMAN STUDENTS

The Trustees of the Kurt Hahn Trust invite applications for Kurt Hahn Scholarships for the academical year 2010–11. The Scholarships are intended to assist students of German nationality to pursue graduate studies at the University of Cambridge and scholars should be based in Cambridge for the majority of the academic year. Scholars, if not already members of the University, will be required to become so before 30 November 2010, and will be required to become a candidate for a Cambridge degree or to carry out approved research as part of a degree of their home university. Candidates should note that the Board of Graduate Studies usual deadline for applications for a research degree is 31 March in any year.

The Scholarships are tenable for one year only and are not renewable. The value will depend on the financial circumstances of the Scholar, but will be in the region of £2,000 and will not cover the cost of University or College fees: the Scholarships are intended to be a contribution towards maintenance costs. Academic merit will not be the only consideration: evidence of more than usual enterprise, breadth of interest, and social awareness will also be considered.

Application forms may be obtained from <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/international/hahn/> or from the Secretary of the Kurt Hahn Trust, 9 Jesus Lane, Cambridge, CB5 8BA (email international@admin.cam.ac.uk), to whom applications, together with two references, should be sent by 12 March 2010.

Hanseatic Scholarships

These scholarships have been established by the Hamburg based Alfred Toepfer Stiftung FVS which wishes to reciprocate the Rhodes Scholarships to Oxford from Germany. The aim of the Foundation is to promote closer Anglo-German links within a European context. Two scholarships are offered each year to either graduate or undergraduate (final year) students at the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge.

The scholarships may be held at any academic institution in Germany, and are tenable for one or two years. The successful candidates must undertake research at doctoral or postdoctoral level, or give evidence of a workable project not connected to a research degree; it would also be possible to obtain a German degree.

The current value of the scholarship is approximately €15,000 per annum, although travel expenses will also be covered. The scholarship is open to members of either Oxford or Cambridge Universities who have lived in the UK (including for educational purposes) for a minimum of three years prior to taking up the scholarship, and who have either completed all the examinations required for the B.A. degree, or have embarked on a course of postgraduate study at either University. Applicants must be under 30 years of age on 1 October 2010.

Sufficient knowledge of the German language is desirable, but candidates who do not have a good knowledge of German are expected to attend a language course in Germany, run by the DAAD or Goethe Institute prior to university entry.

The application form may be obtained from the University of Oxford's website at <http://www.admin.ox.ac.uk/io/opps/index.shtml>. Applications must be sent to the International Student Advisory Services, Examination Schools, 75–81 High Street, Oxford OX1 4BG, to arrive by 5 February 2010. You will need to ensure, in good time, that your referees are willing and able to write a reference for you. The International Student Advisory Service must receive the letters from your referees no later than the application deadline. We will not contact your referees for missing references on your behalf. If someone listed on your application form is subsequently unable to act as a referee, you may arrange for another person to send us a reference, as long as the person is also able to comment on your academic performance and suitability for an award.

Interviews for short-listed candidates will take place in Oxford on 15 March 2010 and the decision of the selectors will be announced shortly thereafter. Students unable to attend an interview on this date need not apply. For further information please visit <http://www.toepfer-fvs.de/hanseatic-scholarshi.html?&L=0%2F>.

Applications should be submitted in writing to the Trust by the division of the Lent Term in each year at 18 Portugal Place, Cambridge, CB5 8AF (email steward@hawksclub.co.uk). Henry Fellowships 2010–11

The Henry Fund was founded by the Will of the late Julia Lady Henry 'in the earnest hope and desire of cementing the bonds of friendship between the British Empire and the United States' to provide Fellowships for British subjects at Harvard and Yale Universities and for American citizens at Oxford and Cambridge Universities.

The Fellowships are open to men and women and are not renewable. Henry Fellows are not normally candidates for a degree of the American University. The Fellowships consist of an assured place for which separate application is unnecessary (unless a candidate for a degree, in which case you must have applied direct for admission), a maintenance grant, tuition fees for the course of study approved by the Trustees, health insurance, and a grant towards the cost of travel. In 2009–10 the maintenance grant is US $30,750 and the travel grant is £2,500. These amounts are reviewed annually. The maintenance grant is paid in instalments.

Candidates must be citizens of a Commonwealth country or of the Republic of Ireland, and must be either (a) undergraduates of a UK university who have completed at least two years undergraduate work on 1 January 2010 or (b) graduates of a UK university who are in their first year of postgraduate study in a UK university in the academical year 2009–10.

While a very high academic standard will be required of successful candidates, the Trustees also attach importance to other attainments and personal qualities relevant to the Founder's intentions. Candidates must produce evidence of character and intellectual ability, and must also submit a definite scheme of study or research to be carried out at the American Universities. The Trustees must be satisfied that the proposed work falls within ordinary university facilities. The choice of the subject of study to be undertaken by the Fellow can be regarded as unrestricted, provided the scheme of work meets with the approval of the Trustees and that of the American University.

The Fellow will report on arrival to a representative of the American Trustees at Harvard or Yale, who will act in an advisory capacity throughout the tenure of the Fellowship. Such emergency matters as a possible change of work or leave of absence will be at the American Trustees' discretion. The American University may naturally exercise its right to expel a Fellow in the case of grave misconduct. Such expulsion would terminate the Fellowship.

The Trustees will only consider candidates prepared to give their whole time to the objects of the Fellowships which include study, social activities with fellow students, and travel within the United States. Fellows are also required to undertake to return to the British Isles (or some part of the Commonwealth) at the expiration of their term of tenure. This condition may be waived or modified in a special case.

Procter Fellowships to Princeton University 2010–11

Procter Fellowships are awards of Princeton University. Candidates are nominated to the authorities of Princeton University by the Vice-Chancellors of Oxford or Cambridge Universities, who act on the recommendation of the Henry Trustees. The final appointment is made by Princeton University, after review and approval by the appropriate academic Department of the University.

Procter Fellowships are open to men and women. Candidates must be Commonwealth citizens; must by the time of taking up their Fellowships have taken at least the B.A. Degree or its equivalent at any university in the United Kingdom with first class honours in the final examinations; and must be certified as of 'good health, high character, excellent education in distinctively liberal studies, and exceptional scholarly power'. Preference is normally given to candidates who would be in their second or third year of postgraduate research when, if elected, they take up their Fellowship.

The Fellowship is normally tenable for one year as a visiting award, but provision also exists exceptionally for a Fellow to be nominated for admission to a Ph.D. programme at Princeton. Candidates who wish to be considered by the Henry Trustees for nomination for the Ph.D. programme should state so on the application form.

Fellows reside in the Graduate College at Princeton, and will be required to devote themselves to advanced study and investigation in 'a branch of subjects of one of the Liberal Arts and Sciences, exclusive of professional, technical, or commercial subjects'. During the tenure of the Fellowship a Fellow must not engage in teaching or in any other remunerative work. The emolument of the Fellowship consists of a stipend expected to be not less than $27,000 (for ten months), travel grant (expected to be ca. $3,000), full tuition and required fees paid by Princeton University. The stipend amount is reviewed annually by the Graduate School. Accommodation in the Graduate College at Princeton is set aside for Procter Fellows, should they require it; room and board charges at the Graduate College are deducted from the stipend (which is paid by the University in ten monthly instalments). US federal income tax is deducted from the stipend, and in some circumstances may be payable on tuition.

Interviews and Reports

Candidates for both Henry Fellowships and Procter Fellowships are interviewed on the same occasion. Interviews are expected to be held in London in late February or March 2010. A medical report will be required later.

The Henry and Procter Fellows for 2010–11 are required to send reports to the Henry Trustees on their year at Harvard, Yale, or Princeton by 30 September 2011.

International Agency for Research on Cancer

POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS FOR TRAINING IN CANCER

Applications for training fellowships in 2010–11 are invited from junior scientists wishing to complete their training in those aspects of cancer research related to the Agency's mission: to coordinate and conduct both epidemiology and laboratory research into the causes of cancer. Disciplines covered include: epidemiology, biostatistics, environmental chemical carcinogenesis, cancer etiology and prevention, infection and cancer, molecular cell biology, molecular genetics, molecular pathology and mechanisms of carcinogenesis, with emphasis on interdisciplinary projects.

Fellowships are tenable at the IARC in Lyon, France working in a research Group. Applicants are eligible from any country. The IARC is particularly keen to promote the development of expertise in cancer research in low and medium-resource countries by training postdoctoral researchers from these countries who can return to apply their new skills and expertise. Therefore applications from candidates from low and medium-resource countries or with projects related to low and medium-resources countries are encouraged. The fellowship is for a period of one year, with the possibility of an extension for a second year subject to satisfactory appraisals. Candidates should have spent less than five years aboard (including doctoral studies) and have finished their doctoral degree within five years of the closing date for application or be in a final phase of completing their doctoral degree (M.D. or Ph.D.). The working languages at IARC are English and French. Candidates must be proficient in English at a level sufficient for scientific communication. Candidates already working on postdoctoral fellow at the Agency at the time of application or who have had any contractual relationship with IARC during the 6 months preceding the application deadline or who have already spent more than one year at IARC cannot be considered. Candidates must contact the host Group of their choice at IARC before application in order to interact closely to establish a proposed programme of mutual interest. Contact with the Group Heads can be made through the Agency's website: <http://www.iarc.fr>.

Fellowships must be taken up by 31 December 2010. The annual stipend is currently 31,860 Euros. The cost of travel for the Fellow, and in certain circumstances for dependant, will be met, a dependant's allowance paid, and health insurance covered.

Kennedy Scholarships

HARVARD UNIVERSITY AND THE MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Please note that the closing date has passed. Next year's timetable is likely to be similar.

A Fund was set up in Great Britain by public subscription in 1965 to commemorate President John F. Kennedy. A Memorial was created at Runnymede in perpetuity; and, in addition, scholarships from Britain to the United States are offered to United Kingdom graduates annually.

The Scholarships are tenable at Harvard or MIT. Boston was President Kennedy's home and he attended Harvard his University where his name is honoured in the Kennedy School of Government.

Prospectus for 2010–11

Kennedy Scholarships, tenable for one year, will be awarded for the academical year 2010–11 at Harvard University and MIT. In certain circumstances, students who are applying for Ph.D. or two year Masters' programmes may be considered for extra funding to help support a second year of study, but normally the two institutions will provide ongoing funding for students admitted to their Ph.D. programmes.

Candidates must, at the same time as applying for a Kennedy Scholarship, make a separate and independent application for admission direct to Harvard or MIT. Lists of the addresses of admissions offices are available from the Secretary of the Trust or on the Harvard and MIT websites, <http://www.harvard.edu/> and <http://www.mit.edu/>. A Kennedy Scholarship provides funding, but except in the situations described below, does not carry automatic admission to Harvard or MIT.

Candidates wishing to study as non-degree students at the Harvard Kennedy School will gain automatic admission on being awarded a Scholarship, but they will be required to complete the necessary Kennedy School application forms. Applicants who are selected as Kennedy Scholars and who wish to study as Special Students on the Technology and Policy Program at MIT will gain automatic admission upon their subsequent application to this program.

Eligible for awards are British citizens at the time of application who are ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom and who have been educated in a British school and institute of higher education at least from the age of 16 up to the completion of their first degree. (Applications cannot be accepted from persons already in the United States.)

Candidates must (a) already be graduates of a United Kingdom university, or university college (applicants who graduated before 2007 will not be eligible), or (b) currently be studying for a first or higher degree and have spent two of the last five years at a UK university or college. Applicants who are studying for a first degree must be due to graduate in the academical year 2009–10 (Marriage is not a bar to the award of Scholarship, but there is no financing for a spouse.)

In awarding Scholarships, the Trustees will take into consideration intellectual ability, personal and communication skills, wider interests and attainments, the focus and value of the candidate's proposed study at Harvard or MIT, and capacity for future influence and leadership.

Candidates intending to apply to the Kennedy School of Government for admission to the MPA or MPP programmes are advised to contact Annie Thomas at the Kennedy Trust office (tel. 020 7222 1151) for guidance.

Awards will not be made to postdoctoral candidates who wish to pursue further research in their own field.

Conditions

Scholars will be required to devote the major part of their time to study in one of the Faculties of the University to which they are admitted. They may be registered on a degree programme or study as a Special Student or (where applicable) as a Visiting Fellow.

Scholars will receive a stipend of at least $22,000 (to cover living costs, any special equipment needed, and some travel within the United States). Scholars are expected to spend part of their summer vacation in the United States after the end of the academical year. Students may apply for an additional grant of $2,000 to pay for travel at this time. Airfares to and from the United States will be paid for by the Trustees, and tuition fees will be paid direct to the Institution concerned.

Applications

Application forms are available from University and College authorities or from the Trust at 3 Birdcage Walk, Westminster, London, SW1H 9JJ (tel. 020 7222 1151). It will also be possible to download the application form from the Trust's website at <http://www.kennedytrust.org.uk/>.

Candidates should submit one original form, legibly written in black and in its original format, along with six photocopies. Attached to each form should be a short, type written essay giving an account (which MUST NOT exceed 1,000 words) of their academic pursuits, general activities, and intellectual interests, plus reasons for wishing to study in the United States, choice of course and institution, and plans for the future.

Referees and testimonials

The forms call for the names of two persons as referees. The first referee should have supervised academically the candidate's university studies; and his or her confidential reference is to come forward with the candidate's application papers.

The second referee may be non-academic but should be familiar with the candidate's performance at university and afterwards. The referee should be asked by the candidate to send forward a confidential reference direct to the Secretary of the Kennedy Memorial Trust by 3 November 2009.

Interviews and selection

Selected candidates will be invited for interview in London on the 6 or 7 January 2010. They will be required to produce a birth certificate, or other nationality papers. Those awarded Scholarships will be asked to provide a medical certificate.

Candidates selected to receive Scholarships will be notified by the end of January, but confirmation of the award cannot be made until April or May when admission to Harvard or MIT has been granted.

Please note that it is not possible for the Trustees to provide candidates with detailed comments on unsuccessful applications.

Entries

The application forms and accompanying essays should be sent to the Head of the University College or the Vice-Chancellor of the university of which the candidate is or has been a student, not later than 20 October 2009.

Heads of Colleges, Vice-Chancellors, or Principals are requested to transmit the application forms and accompanying essays in respect of those candidates whom their university or college is prepared to recommend, in order of preference if possible, together with their own confidential report and recommendation in addition to the references from the academic supervisors. Transmission should be made to the Secretary, Kennedy Memorial Trust, 3 Birdcage Walk, Westminster, London, SW1H 9JJ, not later than 3 November 2009.

Frank Knox Memorial Fellowships

Please note that the closing date has passed. Next year's timetable is likely to be similar.

The President and Fellows of Harvard College have announced that fellowships provided by Mrs Annie Reid Knox for the Frank Knox Memorial Foundation will be made available to enable students from the United Kingdom to study at Harvard University.

Recipients who are admitted to a Harvard degree program requiring multiple years of study are guaranteed two years of Knox funding, provided they remain in good academic standing. Degree candidates in their third year and beyond are eligible to apply for additional support. Recipients who are admitted to one-year degree programs or as Special Students of Visiting Fellows will, ordinarily, be guaranteed funding for one year.

Frank Knox Fellows must apply for and gain admission to one of the graduate or professional schools at Harvard University. The Fellows must be admitted to Harvard as full-time degree programme students or, as permitted by certain Harvard schools, full-time, non-degree Special Students or Visiting Fellows. Candidates should contact the particular Harvard school(s) they wish to attend for further information about degrees and non-degree programmes offered by the school(s).

Candidates wishing to undertake the M.B.A. should normally have completed at least two years' full-time employment in industry, business, or public service by September 2010.

Candidates seeking admission to the Law School should note that the School requires students to have completed their resident university education and hold a basic degree in Law before applying for an advanced degree programme (Master of Laws).

Knox Fellowships are not awarded for postdoctoral study at Harvard.

It is absolutely vital that each candidate file an admissions application directly with the Graduate School of his or her choice at Harvard University; and each candidate must meet the admission requirements and timetable of the School concerned. Candidates are urged to begin correspondence with the particular school at the earliest possible date. Admission to a School is a prior condition of the award of a Knox Fellowship. ‘Candidates will be selected on the basis of future promise of leadership. Strength of character, keen mind, a balanced judgement, and devotion to the democratic ideal will be the qualities borne in mind in making the final selection. The Frank Knox Memorial Fellowships were established in the conviction that co-operation between the British Commonwealth and the United States of America based on an informed and understanding contact of the peoples of these two great countries is an essential to international peace’.

Mrs Knox expressed the hope that holders of the Fellowships, after gaining knowledge and experience from the study away from the United Kingdom, would return to their homes to become leaders in their chosen field.

To each copy of the application, candidates should also attach a short essay (which must not exceed 1,000 words) giving an account of their academic pursuits, general activities, and intellectual interests, plus reasons for wishing to study in the United States and for choice of course and institution, and with their plans for the future.

The Elizabeth Kolb Memorial Trust

The trust was created in 1958 by the will of Louis Michael Kolb, ‘in memory of my truly beloved and unforgettable wife Elizabeth’, to give ‘grants-in-aid to assist worthy girls of the Roman Catholic faith born in the United Kingdom engaged in any particular course of studies and in their living expenses at the Cambridge University, England.’ Applicants must be practising Roman Catholics who were born in the United Kingdom or the Republic of Ireland, and must be engaged in any course of studies at the University of Cambridge. Under the terms of the will, preference is to be given to ‘Roman Catholic girls whose parents or either of them were born in the Jewish faith whether or not such parents shall have remained in the Jewish faith’. Fellows are expected to undertake a significant piece of publishable research during tenure of the award. Awards are made to the host institution on behalf of the successful applicant, rather than directly to the applicant, and the scheme is based on a pound-for-pound system: the Trust pays half of the Fellow's total salary costs and the host institution pays the other half. Approximately sixty Fellowships are offered annually.

Applications from those without a UK degree will be considered if, at the time of application, they hold an academic position in the UK. Applications from those over 35 will be considered if they began their academic studies at a later age than usual or have had a career change/ break. Fellowships to be taken up between the beginning of the 2010–11 academic year and 1 May 2011. The Trust will contribute 50% of each Fellow's total salary costs up to a maximum of £23,000 a year, the other 50% to be paid by the host institution. Each Fellow may seek research expenses up to £6,000 a year.

Application materials will be available from the Trust's website after 4 January 2010. Closing date for applications is 11 March 2010.

As an indication of the Award's value in South African terms, accommodation on the Rhodes Campus is priced between R1,500–R2,500 per month. Fellows may apply for such accommodation on a first come first serve basis.

The University expects that all publications, creative works, and other academic products of the Fellowship will bear appropriate acknowledgement to the University. The University reserves the right to request the refund of any stipend paid to the Fellow should the Fellow terminate his/her contract prior to its completion.

Awards are not made for taught courses, or for any projects in fine art, fine art photography, drama, dance, theatre, and media studies or courses, for courses leading to professional qualifications, in business schools or for electives.

Applicants must be:

The closing date is 1 February 2010. Awards are never made without personal interviews/auditions which are held in London in May. Decisions are made at the end of June/beginning of July.

Zonta International

AMELIA EARHART FELLOWSHIP

The Zonta International Amelia Earhart Fellowships were established in 1938 in honor of Amelia Earhart, famed pilot and Zonta club member. The Fellowships are granted annually to women pursuing graduate Ph.D./doctoral degrees in aerospace-related sciences and aerospace-related engineering.

The Amelia Earhart Fellowships are awarded annually to women pursuing a Ph.D./doctoral degree in aerospace-related sciences and aerospace-related engineering. The Fellowship of US$10,000 may be used at any university or college offering accredited post-graduate courses and degrees. Students must be registered in a full-time Ph.D./doctoral program when funds are received in September and December. Current fellows may apply to renew the Fellowship for a second year and will undergo the same application and evaluation procedures as first-time applicants.

Women of any nationality pursuing a Ph.D./doctoral degree who demonstrate a superior academic record in the field of aerospace-related sciences and aerospace-related engineering are eligible. Please note that post-doctoral research programs are not eligible for the Fellowship. Members and employees of Zonta International or the Zonta International Foundation are also not eligible to apply for the Fellowships.

Applicants must meet the following minimum requirements:

- (a) Be registered in an accredited Ph.D./doctoral program in a qualifying area of science or engineering closely related to advanced studies in aerospace-related science or aerospace-related engineering. A letter of acceptance or verification of enrolment must be submitted with the application.
- (b) Demonstrate a superior academic record at a recognized university or college with accredited courses in aerospace-related studies as verified by transcripts and recommendations. In programs where graduate transcripts are not provided as a matter of institution policy, please provide a statement of that policy from the registrar or other school official.
- (c) Provide evidence of a well-defined research program in aerospace-related science or aerospace-related engineering as described in the application essay (in general scientific terms), academic documents and publications.
- (d) Clearly demonstrate the relationship of the research to aerospace and furnish verification of her research program through at least one of the reference letters required with the application [i.e. research supervisor or advisor must be one of the referees].
- (e) Applicant must be registered in a full-time Ph.D./doctorate program when funds are received in September and December.

The Zonta International Amelia Earhart Fellowship Committee reviews the applications and recommends recipients to the Zonta International Board of Directors. All applicants will be notified of their status by the end of April.

The Fellowship may be used for tuition, books and fees, or living expenses. Payments are made in equal installments in September and December.

For domestic and foreign recipients studying in the United States, Fellowship funds used for tuition, books, fees, supplies or required equipment for the program of study are not considered taxable income. Withholding taxes may be required on funds used for living expenses or other non-qualified expenses.

Recipients are not permitted to defer the Fellowship. Zonta International will consider a new application the following year, but no preferential consideration will be given to the second application.

Fellows may accept additional grants and scholarships from other sources.

Applications are accepted by fax or mail; however, email submissions are preferred. Applications submitted by email must be signed and sent as a PDF. Recommendations, transcripts, and verification of enrolment must be mail or faxed. These documents are accepted by fax or email provided the originals are post-marked within three days after the fax/email is received. Applications, recommendations, transcripts, and verification of enrolment for 2010 Amelia Earhart Fellowships must be received or post-marked by 15 November 2009 to be considered. Applications that are incomplete or late due to postal delays will not be considered.
