STUDENT NUMBERS

The Registrary begs leave to publish the following information on student numbers.

Notes to Tables 1 to 19:

(a) All headcount data are for the student population as at 1 December 2009. This is the census date for the Higher Education Student Early Statistics (HESES) survey submitted to the Higher Education Funding Council for England (HEFCE) in December of each year. The University also makes an annual return to the Higher Education Statistics Agency (HESA). This return provides more detailed information on individual students and covers the period 1 August 2009 to 31 July 2010. The full-time equivalent student load data are based on the HESA reporting period.
(b) The terms used in this publication are consistent with those used by HEFCE/HESA unless stated otherwise. However, in the time-series tables, up to and including 1993-94, UGC/UFC (the bodies that preceded HEFCE) definitions have been used in cumulative tables, and the figures were calculated at the UGC/UFC census date of 31 December.
(c) The headings 'Undergraduate/Postgraduate', 'Arts/Science', 'Full-time/Part-time', in these tables are as defined by HESA. The division of Faculties and Departments between Arts and Science is shown in the Appendix.
(d) Complete lists of courses designated 'undergraduate' or 'postgraduate' are shown in Table 9a (full-time courses) and Table 9b (part-time courses).
(e) Students are classified as 'full-time' if they are undertaking a full-time course and have not completed the minimum requirements of their course (i.e. they are neither writing up nor are under examination) and are not intermitting. Students are classified as 'part-time' if they are undertaking a part-time course and have not completed the minimum requirements of their course and are not intermitting. Students who have completed the minimum requirements of their course and are not intermitting are classified as either 'full-time writing up/under exam' or 'part-time writing up/under exam'. Up to and including 2005-06, students undertaking a part-time course and students writing up/under exam (either full-time or part-time) were classified together as 'not full-time'.
(f) The time series tables show data for the last 20 years. For earlier years please refer to previous years' publications of 'Student Numbers' in the Cambridge University Reporter available online at: http://www.admin. cam.ac.uk/reporter.
(g) Time series data should be interpreted taking account of recent changes in the definitions of 'full-time', 'not full-time', 'writing up/under exam', and in the allocation of FTE (full-time equivalent) load, for postgraduate students for different periods of their career, as follows:

Up to and including 2004-05, postgraduate students undertaking a full-time course were recorded as 'full-time' for the required terms of their course and after those terms were completed as 'not full-time'. For example, a three-year Ph.D. was recorded as 'full-time' in the first nine terms (and allocated an FTE load of $100 \%$ for each year) and as 'not full-time' in and after the tenth term (and allocated an FTE load of $50 \%$ for each complete subsequent year).
In 2005-06 and 2006-07, postgraduate students undertaking a full-time course were recorded as 'full-time' for the required terms of their course plus one extra term, and thereafter as 'not full-time' (defined as 'full-time writing up/under exam' in 2006-07). Thus in 2005-06 the typical three-year Ph.D. student was recorded as 'fulltime' in the first ten terms and from the eleventh term onwards as 'not full-time' ('full-time writing up/under exam' in 2006-07). The allocation of FTE load was $100 \%$ for the first ten terms, and zero in and after the eleventh term. The annual load was therefore $100 \%$ for each of the first three years, $33 \%$ for the fourth year (in respect of the tenth term) and zero for all subsequent years.
From 2007-08 postgraduate students undertaking a full-time course are recorded as 'full-time' for the required terms of their course and as 'full-time writing up/under exam' if they have completed the required terms. Thus the typical three-year Ph.D. student is recorded as 'full-time' in the first nine terms and from the tenth term onwards as 'full-time writing up/under exam'. The allocation of FTE load is $100 \%$ for the first nine terms and zero in and after the tenth term. The annual load is therefore $100 \%$ for each of the first three years, and zero for all subsequent years.
In and after 2005-06, the head count of student numbers in Table 6 includes the Master of Studies courses; students on those courses are included in the FTE load for all years. However, before 2005-06, the load attributed to students registered on M.St. courses was assigned to cost centre 41 (Institute of Continuing Education). In and after 2005-06, M.St. student load has been reassigned to the appropriate cost centres based upon the relevant M.St. department course owners.

The effects of these changes in definitions are:

- In comparison to 2004-05, the number of postgraduate students defined as 'full-time' in 2005-06 and 200607 increased, but the associated FTE load decreased. The addition of part-time Master of Studies students further increased the head count of students in Table 6.
- In comparison to 2006-07 totals, both the number and the FTE load of postgraduate students defined as 'full-time' in 2007-08 decreased.
(h) Further information about these tables, or on the approach to the statistics, may be obtained from the Student Statistics Office, University of Cambridge, Greenwich House, Madingley Rise, Madingley Road, Cambridge, CB3 0TX (email Student.Statistics@admin.cam.ac.uk).

'Home' includes students from the EU and other overseas countries eligible to pay the home rate of fees, plus Channel Isles and Isle of Man students paying the Island rate of fees.
From 2005-06, incoming reciprocal (ERASMUS and MIT) exchange students, who are exempt from fees, have been included in their relevant eligibility category. In previous years they were placed under Home.
Part-time students at the Institute of Continuing Education and at the Cambridge Programme for Sustainability Leadership are excluded from the table.

*This table has not been updated for 2009-10 and will not be published in future years: the range of tuition fee bands has increased and the categories used in this time-series table are no longer meaningful.
From 1980 to 1990, 'Other' refers to the pre-1980 rate of overseas fees. Thereafter it refers to any fee not otherwise specified as 'Arts', 'Science' or 'Clinical' (for example, the M.B.A.).
Incoming and outgoing ERASMUS students and incoming MIT students are excluded because they do not pay fees.

Medical and Veterinary Students are shown as such, irrespective of the Tripos examination for which they are entered in the current year (e.g. thirdyear Medical Students reading Archaeology and Anthropology).
Student numbers are split across two subject headings for courses that are in a state of transition (Education Studies to Education; Oriental Studies to Asian and Middle Eastern Studies; and Social and Political Sciences to Politics, Psychology, and Sociology).

Table 15a. Students admitted to their current undergraduate course in October of the given year by subject, 2008-09 and 2009-10

Note: Table 15 is now broken down into three tables ( $15 \mathrm{a}, 15 \mathrm{~b}$ and 15 c ) to provide a breakdown of the number of students admitted to undergraduate and advanced undergraduate courses, and, for advanced undergraduate courses, the number of Cambridge and non-Cambridge graduates.

Student numbers are split across two subject headings for courses that are in a state of transition (Education Studies to Education; Oriental Studies to Asian and Middle Eastern Studies; and Social and Political Sciences to Politics, Psychology, and Sociology).
From 2008-09, students progressing from the Mathematical Tripos to the Cert. Adv. Study in Mathematics did so as part of an integrated degree (B.A. + Cert. Adv. Study in Mathematics in Table 9a). Prior to 2008-09, most Cambridge students took the B.A. and then were admitted to read the Cert. Adv. Study in Mathematics.

* Prior to 2009-10 the Diploma in Theology and Religious Studies was included in the postgraduate tables. The diploma is undergraduate in level, but a previous first degree with honours is a pre-requisite for the course.

'Affiliated student' is defined as any person who, before matriculation in the University of Cambridge, has received or become qualified to receive a degree from another institution of higher education, subject to approval. Students who already hold a Cambridge degree are thus excluded from this definition and are recorded as 'graduate students reading Triposes'. These definitions are not used by HEFCE/HESA. Table 16 includes data for both affiliated students and the small number of Cambridge graduates reading Triposes (seven Home students). Up to and including 2006-07, the tables excluded Cambridge graduates reading Triposes.

Commonwealth countries classification is as at 1 December 2009.
Incoming and outgoing ERASMUS students and incoming MIT students are excluded because they do not pay fees.

NOTES TO TABLES 20-26

1. Subject to the exceptions listed below, the statistics include all candidates for Tripos and Preliminary examinations whether undergraduates, affiliated students or graduates. The tables are compiled in July and do not reflect any amendments to the results made at a later date.
2. These statistics exclude:
(a) candidates who took examinations as candidates 'not for Honours' (with the exception of Part III of the Mathematical Tripos)
(b) candidates who have spent the year abroad studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology or studying in Paris as part of the Double Maîtrise. These results are shown separately with Table 26 so that they shall not affect the percentages in the main tables.
(c) unclassified preliminary examinations (in History, Classics, and Education) and the First Examination for the Degree of Bachelor of Theology for Ministry. These results are shown separately with Table 26 so that they shall not affect percentages in the main tables.
(d) candidates for: (i) Diploma and Certificate examinations; (ii) Oral examinations in Modern Languages; and (iii) Mus. B. examination
(e) candidates who were not classed amd were still awaiting a decision from the Applications Committee at the time these tables were produced.
3. The heading 'Other results' includes (but does not differentiate between):
(a) candidates who failed their examinations
(b) Honours candidates who have received an allowance from the Examiners
(c) candidates who have received allowances (deemed to have deserved honours (DDH) or granted an allowance towards the Ordinary degree) by the Applications Committee of the Council. (Allowances may be granted to candidates who have been ill or who have extenuating circumstances and have thus been prevented from taking an examination or whose performance has been adversely affected as a consequence.)
4. In Part III of the Mathematics Tripos, a pass with distinction or merit has been counted as a Class I and a pass as Class II, division (1). This applies whether or not the candidate is a candidate for Honours. In Part II of the Manufacturing Engineering Tripos and Part IIB of the Engineering Tripos, a pass with distinction has been counted as Class I, a pass with merit has been counted as Class II, division (1) and a pass as Class II, division (2).
5. The class obtained in each language by candidates entered for two languages for Part IA of the Modern and Medieval Languages Tripos has been counted as half a class. This explains why, in some years, the number of cases under each class division for this tripos and in the totals are not whole units.
6. Third-year pre-clinical medical and veterinary students are included under the Tripos examination for which they were entered.
7. The following courses are in a state of transition, and Tripos results will be shown under two headings: Education Studies to Education; Oriental Studies to Asian and Middle Eastern Studies; and Social and Political Sciences to Politics, Psychology, and Sociology.

Notes:
(a) The undividing of Part IA of the Medical and Veterinary Sciences Tripos in 2001 accounts for the large increases in the undivided Second Class.

Conversely, the division of the Second Class of the Mathematics Tripos in 1995 led to a substantial decrease
(b) Candidates receiving allowances from the Applications Committee were excluded from the statistics from 1972 to 2007, but were included again from 2008. Candidates for the LL.M. Examination were excluded from 1999.

[^0]:    ${ }^{1}$ UG - Undergraduates, PGT - Postgraduates taught, PGR - Postgraduates research.
    ${ }^{2}$ This column represents the overall assumed number of registrations or load for the academical year 2009-10, taking into account non-completions and registrations after 1 December.
    ${ }^{3}$ Courses are classified as 'long' if students are normally required to attend for 45 weeks or more within the year.
    ${ }^{4}$ Allocation of students to price groups. Students are allocated to Faculties and Departments according to an agreed formula. Faculties and Departments are allocated to cost centres in accordance with instructions provided by HEFCE (see Appendix). Cost centres are then allocated to the various price groups in accordance with HEFCE rules.

[^1]:    * 4-year courses with both degrees being awarded at the end of the course.
     Prior to 2009-10 the Diploma in Theology and Religious Studies was included in the postgraduate tables. The diploma is undergraduate in level, but a previous first degree with honours is a pre-requisite for the course.
    Students at the Institute of Continuing Education are excluded from this table.
    Students starting courses after 1 December 2009 are excluded.
