Report of the Council on the provisions concerning the initiation of Graces and of amendments to submitted Graces by members of the Regent House: Notice in response to Discussion remarks

25 September 2017

The Council has received the remarks made at the Discussion on 13 June 2017 (Reporter, 6470, 2016–17, p. 683) concerning the above Report (Reporter, 6466, 2016–17, p. 542).

The Council notes Dr Reid's concern about the scenario in which a Grace is initiated by members of the Regent House that, if approved as submitted, would result in an Ordinance, Order, or action by the University which would be unlawful. It has considered his recommendation that provision should be made to avoid such a situation, or to provide a course of action to enable a review of such a Grace. The Council is aware that the current provisions in Special Ordinance A (i) 7 do not afford any means for preventing the submission of an initiated Grace in the scenario Dr Reid describes. However, it does not believe that the Regent House would support the extension of the Council's authority in the manner proposed. As Dr Reid notes, there are mechanisms in place that would enable a Statute, Ordinance, or Order resulting from such a Grace to be challenged and overturned. Further, and in any event, no University body would be obliged to comply with an internal enactment which purported to require it to carry out any act which was unlawful or in contravention of the University's Statutes.

The Council has also noted Professor Edwards's comments and has considered his suggestion that the wording used to describe the Council's act in putting an initiated Grace to the Regent House should be amended, replacing 'authorization' with 'sanction'. The current wording of Statute A VIII (c) (Statutes and Ordinances, 2016, p. 10) affirms that 'All Graces require the authorization of the Council' and the Report which is the subject of these remarks proposes that it is amended to read as follows:

All Graces submitted require the authorization of the Council; the Council may withhold that authorization in circumstances as prescribed by Special Ordinance;

The word 'sanction', as Professor Edwards notes, carries the sense of rendering an act legally authoritative or binding, but it can also imply approval of the act. The Council does not necessarily, in submitting an initiated Grace, support the proposal as put forward in the Grace and may, for example, call a ballot on the Grace. Further (subject to the issue of lawfulness which Dr Reid has raised), the Grace is only legally authoritative and binding if the Regent House approves it and does not call a ballot or submit an amendment to the Grace; the Council's act in authorizing the submission of the Grace does not of itself render it binding. It therefore is more appropriate for the word 'authorization' to be retained.

Professor Evans, in her remarks, draws attention to the difficulty of identifying the rules governing the exercise of the powers of the Regent House. The Council has some sympathy with this view but notes that the relevant provisions are split between Statute, Special Ordinance, and Ordinance in accordance with the granularity of the information they contain and the approval required for their amendment. It also notes that the governance site (https://www.governance.cam.ac.uk/) is intended to address this difficulty, by providing an informal guide to the University's complex governance arrangements, with links to the relevant parts of the Statutes and Ordinances.

The Council is submitting a Grace (Grace 1, p. 14) for the approval of the recommendations of this Report.

Professorial Pay Review, 2017

25 September 2017

This Notice gives information about the awards made following a review of professorial pay as at 1 October 2016, conducted in accordance with Annex 7 of the Second Joint Report of the Council and General Board on a New Pay and Grading Structure for Non-Clinical Staff (Reporter, 6002, 2004–05, p. 745) and Schedule 2 of the Joint Report of the Council and the General Board on amendments to the pay and grading scheme for non-clinical staff implemented following that Report (Reporter, 6302, 2012–13, p. 423). With the assistance of an Advisory Committee chaired by Sir Graeme Davies, the Vice-Chancellor carried out an assessment of applications for a review of professorial pay received from eligible Professors. The Advisory Committee was assisted by School-level Committees which undertook the initial assessment of applications in Bands 1 and 2 (the membership of those Committees is noted below). Progression within and between bands is not automatic and is based on contribution, as described in Annex 7 of the Joint Report, and assessed through a biennial review process. The Vice-Chancellor has informed all applicants of the outcome of this review.

The following table summarizes the original distribution of Professorships across the Schools, and within each band, as at 1 October 2016.

School	Band 1		Band 2		Band 3		Band 4		Total

¹ Percentage in each band as a proportion of the Total column: e.g. 25% of male Professors are in Band 2; 9% of female Professors are in Band 3.

Awards

The number of awards made as a result of this exercise is shown in the table below. Where any individuals were placed in a higher band as a result of the review, the table reflects their new banding.

Technology: Professor Dame Ann Dowling, Department of Engineering; Professor Lynn Gladden, Department of Chemical Engineering and Biotechnology; Professor Andrew Hopper, Computer Laboratory; Professor Christoph Loch, Judge Business School; Professor Peter Wells (VC's Advisory Committee).

Discipline Committee

The Discipline Committee met on 13 June 2017 to consider two separate cases where charges were brought by the University Advocate against student members of the University. The Committee consisted of: Dr L. A. Merrett, T (Chair); Dr A. T. Winter, CHR; Professor E. F. Wilson, CC; Dr Stephen Siklos, JE; and Professor I. M. Hutchings, JN. Ms d'Ambrumenil acted as Secretary to the Committee, with Ms Parker assisting. On the application of the charged persons, the Committee consisted of senior members only, and sat in private.

In each case, the charged person was charged with one count contrary to Regulation 7 of the General Regulations for Discipline, namely use of unfair means in an essay submitted for assessment as part of an examination for a postgraduate course. In each case, the charged person submitted a guilty plea, the University Advocate outlined the circumstances of the case, and the charged person's representative presented the charged person's case and addressed the Committee on mitigation in relation to penalty. In Case one, the charged person made a statement; in Case two, both the charged person and the College Tutor made a statement.

Case one

The Committee considered all of the information provided. The Committee noted the substantial percentage of plagiarized material, as well as the student's remorse, their significant personal circumstances and the inclusion of the plagiarized documents within the bibliography. The nature of the course and the small part of the degree affected by the breach was also acknowledged.

Taking all factors into account, the Committee determined, in accordance with Statute D II 3, that: the Charged Person have their mark for the relevant examination paper reduced to zero; and that they provide formal written apologies to the Chair of Examiners and to the authors of the plagiarized material.

Case two

The Committee considered all the information provided. The Committee noted the significant percentage of plagiarized material, as well as the student's remorse and personal circumstances, acknowledging the nature of the course and the small part of the degree affected by the breach of the Regulations.

Taking all factors into account, the Committee determined, in accordance with Statute D II 3, that: the Charged Person have their mark for the relevant examination paper reduced to zero; and that they provide a formal written apology addressed to the Chair of Examiners and inclusive of a re-submission of the assignment in question.

Capella building: Naming approved

4 August 2017

The Advisory Committee on Benefactions and External and Legal Affairs has approved the naming of the new laboratory for the Schools of the Biological Sciences and Clinical Medicine on the Addenbrooke's site¹ as the Jeffrey Cheah Biomedical Centre, in recognition of a donation from Mr Jeffrey Cheah.

¹ The laboratory was known as the Capella building during its development and construction. The recommendations of a second-stage Report concerning the laboratory were approved by Grace 4 of 15 July 2015.

Naming of buildings on the North West Cambridge site

18 September 2017

In accordance with the principles for the naming of roads, neighbourhoods, and buildings on the West and North West Cambridge sites (Reporter, 6350, 2013–14, p. 610), the Council, on the recommendation of the West and North West Cambridge Estates Board, has approved the following names for buildings on the site:

427	Zoology (choose two from Zoology modules M1 to M8 or Plant sciences M3, and two from L1 to L7 or Genetics module 5) (maximum 25 candidates)	Students may choose Minor subjects that do not have lecture clashes with the Zoology modules chosen – please consult the relevant lecture timetables	Four three-hour papers from a total of seventeen, two from Lent Term modules and two from Michaelmas Term modules. Candidates must answer three questions from a choice of six on each paper.
428	Psychology, neuroscience, and behaviour	Students may choose Minor subjects that do not have lecture clashes with the PNB modules chosen – please consult the relevant lecture timetables	Four written papers of three hours each.

	Minor subject	Examination requirements
104	Human evolution and palaeolithic archaeology (HSPS Paper BAN3) (maximum 20 candidates)	One written paper of three hours' duration, worth 80% of the overall mark, and one practical examination worth 20% of the overall mark.
105	Behavioural ecology and adaption (HSPS Paper BAN2) (maximum 20 candidates)	One written paper of three hours' duration.

PART III

The Committee of Management for the Natural Sciences Tripos gives notice of the following additional interdisciplinary papers, which shall be included in the examination requirements of one or more subjects for Part III of the Natural Sciences Tripos (Statutes and Ordinances, p. 400).

Tit	le of paper	Mode of assessment	May be offered in
	P1: Atmospheric chemistry and global change	One and a half hour written examination	Chemistry; Physics; Earth Sciences
	P2: Geological carbon cycle and long term climate change	One and a half hour written examination	Chemistry; Physics; Earth Sciences
	P3: Materials, electronics, and renewable energy	One and a half hour written examination	Chemistry; Physics; Earth Sciences

Notwithstanding the examination requirements set out in Regulation 36 of the Natural Sciences Tripos, the following amendments shall apply to candidates offering interdisciplinary papers:

Part III Chemistry

Candidates may offer up to two of the interdisciplinary papers listed above, without restriction. Candidates shall have less time to complete their other scheduled examination papers, such that, for each interdisciplinary paper offered:

- thirty minutes shall be taken away from the duration of Paper 1, and candidates for this paper will be required to answer one question fewer;
- forty-five minutes shall be taken away from the duration of Paper 3, and candidates will be required to answer one question fewer.

Part III Physics

Candidates may offer up to three of the interdisciplinary papers listed above in place of the equivalent number of Minor Topics.

Part III Earth Sciences

Candidates may offer one or two of the interdisciplinary papers listed above in place of the equivalent number of optional courses. Candidates will offer six optional courses in total.

LL.M., 2017–18: Designated papers, prescribed subjects, and forms of examination: Correction

The Faculty Board of Law gives notice of an amendment to the list of prescribed papers for the Master of Law examination, 2017–18 (Statutes and Ordinances, 2016, p. 454) published on 26 July 2017 (Reporter, 6475, 2016–17, p. 787).

Paper 7, 'Corporate insolvency law' will not be available in 2017–18.

The form of examination for Paper 10, 'Corporate governance' will be a three-hour final examination (a thesis may not be submitted in lieu of a final examination).

Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery: Second M.B. Examination and Final M.B. Examination, 2017–18

Second Examination

The Faculty Board of Clinical Medicine gives notice that, with effect from the assessments to be held in 2017–18, the form of the examination for the 'Preparing for Patients A' and 'Preparing for Patients B' assessments within the Second M.B. Examination (Statutes and Ordinances, 2016, p. 458) will be as follows:

Preparing for Patients A

Candidates will complete coursework by submitting answers to two short exercises online, each exercise consisting of a series of compulsory short-answer questions. One submission will be due at the end of Michaelmas Term after the first GP visit and one submission is due after the second GP visit, during Lent Term. Work will be assessed online and developmental written feedback provided.

Preparing for Patients B

Candidates will complete coursework by submitting answers to a short compulsory exercise online. The exercise will be completed after candidates have completed their hospital visits. Work will be assessed online and developmental written feedback provided. Work must be submitted by the second Thursday of Michaelmas Term for students taking their hospital visits in the Long Vacation. For candidates taking their hospital visits in December or January, work must be submitted by the second Wednesday of Lent Term.

Final Examination

The Faculty Board of Clinical Medicine gives notice that, with effect from the assessments to be held in 2017–18, the form of the examination for the Final M.B. Examination for Parts I, II, and III (Statutes and Ordinances, 2016, p. 458) will be as follows:

PART I

The Final M.B. B.Chir. examinations are concerned with the principles and practice of Medicine and Surgery in their broadest sense, commensurate with the stage of student progression through the course. The Part I examination may include material relating to General Medicine, General Surgery, Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, General Practice, Pathology, Public Health Medicine, Paediatrics, Psychiatry, and other medical and surgical specialities as appropriate.

The Part I examination is designed to assess the candidate's

- knowledge and experience of Medicine and Surgery in their broadest sense (as defined above)
- · understanding of the pathological basis of disease
- ability to apply that knowledge and experience to the management of patients
- ability to communicate effectively with patients and to respect their autonomy
- experience of ethical problems in clinical medicine.

Candidates may be asked to interpret radiographs and scans, electrocardiograms, clinical photographs, and other data. Knowledge, skills, and behaviour will be assessed. Written papers are assessed without knowledge of the candidate's name.

The examination comprises two components:

Written Examination:

Single Best Answer (SBA) Marks: 50% of Part I total

Examination Paper Length: 3 hours

Structure: Up to 150 five-option, single response computer-marked questions

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark as set by the

examiners, or higher

Clinical Examination: Marks: 50% of Part I total

Length: Up to 2.5 hours

Structure: Ten stations of up to 12 minutes' duration, testing history-taking, clinical reasoning and other interpersonal communication skills, and core clinical/physical examination skills, using real and simulated patients.

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark, as set by the examiners, or higher. In addition, candidates must achieve a pass in at least three of the communication skills stations and in at least three of the clinical/ physical examination skills stations. Where a station is made up of two parts, a pass in both parts is required to achieve an overall pass on that station.

Note: to achieve an overall pass in the Final M.B. Part I Examination, students must pass both the written and clinical examinations; candidates who are unsuccessful in one element (i.e. the written or the clinical examination) may, at the discretion of the Examination Board, be asked to re-sit that element alone.

PART II

The Final M.B. B.Chir. examinations are concerned with the principles and practice of Medicine and Surgery in their broadest sense, commensurate with the stage of student progression through the course. The Part II examination may include material relating to General Medicine, General Surgery, Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, General Practice, Pathology, Public Health Medicine, Paediatrics, Psychiatry, and other medical and surgical specialities as appropriate.

The Part II examination is designed to assess the candidate's

- knowledge and experience of Medicine and Surgery in their broadest sense (as defined above)
- understanding of the pathological basis of disease
- ability to apply that knowledge and experience to the management of patients
- ability to communicate effectively with patients and to respect their autonomy
- experience of ethical problems in clinical medicine.

Candidates may be asked to interpret radiographs and scans, electrocardiograms, clinical photographs, and other clinical data. Knowledge, skills, and behaviour will be assessed. Written papers are assessed without knowledge of the candidate's name.

The examination comprises both written and clinical elements, with the written assessment made up of two components:

Written Examination:

Single Best Answer Marks: 25% of Part II total

Examination Paper Length: 3 hours

Structure: Up to 150 five-option, single response computer-marked questions

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark as set by the

examiners, or higher

Extended Clinical Cases Marks: 25% of Part II total

Examination Paper Length: 3 hours

Structure: Up to ten questions of short answer format

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark as set by the

examiners, or higher

Note: to achieve a pass in the written examination, students must pass both components at the same sitting.

Clinical Examination: Marks: 50% of Part II total

Length: Two circuits, each lasting up to 1.25 hours (total exam time up to 2.5 hours)

Structure: Two circuits, each comprising six stations of up to twelve minutes' duration, testing history-taking, clinical reasoning and other interpersonal communication skills and core clinical/physical examination skills, using real and simulated patients. One circuit will focus on Paediatrics, and the other on Women's health (the latter may require the assessment of major adult systems, e.g. cardiovascular, respiratory, abdominal, neurological).

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark, as set by the examiners, or higher. In addition, candidates must achieve a pass in at least three of the Paediatric examination stations and in at least three of the Women's health examination stations.

Note: to achieve an overall pass in the Final M.B. Part II Examination, students must pass both the written and clinical examinations; candidates who are unsuccessful in one element (i.e. the written or the clinical examination) may, at the discretion of the Examination Board, be asked to re-sit that element alone.

PART III

The Final M.B. B.Chir. examinations are concerned with the principles and practice of Medicine and Surgery in their broadest sense. Accordingly, they may include material relating to General Medicine, General Surgery, Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, General Practice, Pathology, Public Health Medicine, Paediatrics, Psychiatry, and other medical and surgical specialities as appropriate.

The Part III examination is designed to assess the candidate's

- knowledge and experience of Medicine and Surgery in their broadest sense (as defined above)
- understanding of the pathological basis of disease
- ability to apply that knowledge and experience to the management of patients
- ability to communicate effectively with patients and to respect their autonomy
- experience of ethical and legal issues in clinical medicine.

Candidates may be asked to interpret radiographs and scans, electrocardiograms, clinical photographs, and other data. Knowledge, skills, and behaviour will be assessed. Written papers are assessed without knowledge of the candidate's name.

The examination has four components:

Component 1:

Single Best Answer Paper Length: 2.5 hours

(SBA) Paper One (1A) Structure: Up to 125 five-option, single response computer-marked questions

Single Best Answer Paper Length: 2.5 hours

(SBA) Paper Two (IB) Structure: Up to 125 five-option, single response computer-marked questions

To pass: marks for 1A and 1B will be combined, and students must achieve the pass mark, as set by the examiners, or higher

Component 2:

Short Answer Question Length: 2 hours

(SAQ) Paper Structure: 6 – 8 structured short essay questions testing public health, ethics, law and professionalism skills and knowledge

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark, as set by the

examiners, or higher

Component 3:

Simulated Clinical Length: Up to 3 hours

Encounter Examination (SCEE) Structure:

Up to twelve 15-minute stations in history-taking, clinical reasoning, and other interpersonal communication skills using simulated patients/professionals

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark, as set by the examiners, or higher, as well as passing a minimum of 50% of

examination stations

Component 4:

Clinical Examination (CE) Length: Up to 3 hours

Structure: A combination of not less than ten stations, of either 7.5-minutes or 15-minutes, testing core clinical skills and physical examination

skills using real patients

To pass: students must achieve the pass mark, as set by the examiners, or higher, as well as passing a minimum of 50% of examination stations
