Notice of a benefaction

The Vice-Chancellor gives notice that he has accepted with gratitude a benefaction of £100m from the David and Claudia Harding Foundation towards the Student Support Initiative launched by the Vice-Chancellor on 1 October 2018 (Reporter, 6520, 2018–19, p. 33). The benefaction comprises £79m as endowment to support outstanding Ph.D. students in any discipline, to be called the Harding Distinguished Postgraduate Scholars Programme, £54m of which will be applied by the University, with the balance of £25m to be transferred to St Catharine's College to be applied to support students at the College as part of the Programme. Of the remaining £21m, of which the capital and income may be used, £20m will be applied to form the Harding Collegiate Cambridge Challenge Fund, to match gifts made to the Cambridge Colleges to support undergraduate students at the University, and £1m will be applied at the discretion of the Vice-Chancellor for the purpose of improving access to the University for students from disadvantaged backgrounds.

The Council is submitting a Grace (Grace 2, p. 419) for the approval of regulations to govern the proposed endowment fund, to be called the Harding Distinguished Postgraduate Scholars Programme Fund, the funding for which will be matched with a £25m contribution from the University.

He hereby gives notice that in the opinion of the Council the proposed Statutes make no alteration of any Statute which affects the University, and do not require the consent of the University; that the interests of the University are not prejudiced by them, and that the Council has resolved to take no action upon them, provided that the Council will wish to reconsider the proposed Statutes if they have not been submitted to the Privy Council by 18 February 2020.

Nomination of Proctor and Deputy Proctors

18 February 2019

At the University Offices on Friday, 15 February 2019, the Master of Trinity Hall presented to a Deputy for the Vice-Chancellor and in the presence of a Deputy for the Registrar, TIMOTHY NICHOLAS MILNER, of Darwin College, being the person nominated by Trinity Hall in accordance with Statute C IV 4 (Statutes and Ordinances, p. 19), to serve as Proctor until 1 October 2019 following the decision of Dr John Xuereb to step down as Proctor. The election will take place at the Congregation on Saturday, 23 February 2019.

In accordance with the provisions of Special Ordinance C III (Statutes and Ordinances, p. 74), Mr Milner has nominated GORDON CHESTERMAN, of St Edmund's College, and CRISTIANO ANDREA RISTUCCIA, of Trinity Hall, for election as Deputy Proctors. A Grace for Mr Chesterman's appointment as an additional Pro-Proctor has been sanctioned by the Council for submission at the Congregation on 23 February (see p. 419).

Equal Pay Review 2018

The University is committed to the principles of equal pay for work of equal value, freedom from discrimination, and recognition and reward of the University's staff as its greatest asset. As part of this commitment the University analyses equal pay data annually and publishes an Equal Pay Review biennially. This is the University's seventh Equal Pay Review.

The first Equal Pay Review was commissioned by the University to take place in 2008 as part of the proposals in the Second Joint Report of the Council and the General Board on new pay and grading arrangements for non-clinical staff (Reporter, 6002, 2004–05, p. 745).

It should be noted that the methodology for the Equal Pay Review differs from the mandatory gender pay gap report (GPGR)¹ as it was introduced prior to the mandatory requirements:

- The Equal Pay Review only covers employees who are employed in roles on the single salary spine (GPGR covers all employees, including those in the subsidiaries).
- The Equal Pay Review data is as at 31 July (GPGR data is as at 31 March).

The Review Group's first three reports were published on an annual cycle, on 18 February 2009 (Reporter, 6141, 2008–09, p. 510), 21 April 2010 (Reporter, 6185, 2009–10, p. 688), and 15 December 2010 (Reporter, 6208, 2010–11, p. 318). Subsequently, the University agreed to publish an Equal Pay Review on a biennial cycle, but continue to collect and analyse data annually. Biennial reviews were published on the 26 November 2012 (Reporter, 6287, 2012–13, p. 151), 17 December 2014 (Reporter, 6370, 2014–15, p. 300) and 23 November 2016 (Reporter, 6445, 2016–17, p. 128). All Equal Pay Reviews and can be found on the HR Division website at: <http://www.hr.admin.cam.ac.uk/pay-benefits/pay-and-reward/pay/equal-pay-reviews>; the 2018 Equal Pay Review is also available at <http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/reporter/2018-19/weekly/6538/EqualPayReview2018.pdf>.

The Equal Pay Review 2018 brings together the following pay data as at 31 July 2018:

- gender representation and average salaries² (basic pay and total pay by grade, staff category, and working hours);
- salaries paid to new employees;
- additional pensionable and non-pensionable payments for the 12 months ending 31 July 2018.

The appendices include median³ and inter-quartile ranges⁴ where appropriate, in order to provide further insight into potential gender pay issues and for benchmarking purposes. The commentary primarily refers to the mean pay gap, but additional median pay gap information is also provided.

This report examines the impact of the above by gender and highlights differences and pay gaps including market comparisons. It also comments on progress made on matters of concern raised in previous equal pay reviews including the equal pay Key Performance Indicators which highlight key themes in equal pay at the University of Cambridge.

² Average (mean) salary is the sum of each single salary spine point value (or total pay if appropriate) divided by the number of instances.

⁴ The inter-quartile range is the difference between the upper quartile (i.e. the value of all payments three quarters of the way from lowest to highest) and the lower quartile (i.e. the value of all payments one quarter of the way from lowest to highest).

USS update: Contributions to rise from 1 April 2019

Members of the Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS) are advised that their pension contributions will rise from 8% to 8.8% of salary from 1 April 2019. In addition, the 1% employer 'match' for those making additional voluntary contributions will be discontinued. All other benefits remain unchanged.

These changes are part of the 'cost-sharing' measures, provided for by the scheme rules, which have been implemented to complete the disputed 2017 valuation of USS. Further cost-sharing increases are currently scheduled to come into effect in October 2019 and April 2020. However, these may not be implemented, as the 2017 valuation will be superseded by a new, 2018 valuation currently in progress. The 2018 valuation could lead to lower contribution increases.

Further information about the cost-sharing increases, the 2018 valuation, and future developments for USS is available at <https://www.staff.admin.cam.ac.uk/uss-february-update>. This page also includes a link to the recording of a recent staff open meeting at which these issues were discussed.

REPORTS

Report of the General Board on the establishment of certain Professorships

The GENERAL BOARD begs leave to report to the University as follows:

1. The General Board recommends the establishment of a Professorship of Geophysics, a Nanjing Professorship of Technology and Innovation and a Professorship of Neuroendocrinology. The funding arrangements for these Professorships, as set out in paragraphs 2, 3 and 4 below, were scrutinised by the Resource Management Committee at its meeting held on 23 January 2019.

2. The Board has accepted an academic case from the Council of the School of the Physical Sciences for the establishment for a single tenure, from 1 October 2019, of a Professorship of Geophysics in the Department of Earth Sciences for one year. The holder of this Professorship will be the person elected to the Professorship of Geophysics (1966), an office currently held by Professor Robert White, who will retire on 30 September 2020. The full salary costs of the one-year prolepsis will be met from resources available to the Department and the School. As one of only three Professorships in the Department of Earth Sciences, an early appointment is essential before the REF July 2020 census date and also vital to the succession planning of the academic leadership of the Bullard Laboratory. The Department would like to have both Professor White and his successor in place to maintain continuity and strengthen the significant research interests in geophysics, as well as maintain the Bullard Group's invaluable contribution to undergraduate teaching.

3. The Board has accepted an academic case from the Council of the School of Technology for the establishment for a single tenure, from 1 April 2019, of a Nanjing Professorship of Technology and Innovation in the Department of Engineering. The full salary costs of the Professorship will be met from a £10 million capital payment under an agreement between the University of Cambridge, its subsidiary Cambridge University International Holdings (CUIH) and the Nanjing Healthcare Investment Area and Development Company (NIHA). The establishment of the Professorship will cement the flourishing academic links with commercial and academic research groups in the Nanjing area of China. The office-holder will also be appointed as the Academic Director of the Cambridge University – Nanjing Centre of Technology and Innovation based in Nanjing. Under the agreement with the funders, the office-holder will spend a minimum of three months in any one year at the Centre outside Full Term.

4. The Board has accepted an academic case from the Council of the School of the Biological Sciences for the establishment for a single tenure, from 2 September 2019, of a Professorship of Neuroendocrinology in the Department of Physiology, Development and Neuroscience. Half of the salary costs of the Professorship will be met from existing resources available to the Department and the other half will be provided by the Wellcome Trust. The holder of the Professorship of Neuroendocrinology will be Professor Allan Herbison from the University of Otago, New Zealand. Professor Herbison has recently been awarded a Wellcome Trust Senior Research Fellowship for five years from 2 September 2019 with an accompanying Wellcome Trust research grant of £2.25m. The Department has agreed to underwrite the full salary costs of the Professorship until retirement in the event that the Wellcome Trust grant is not renewed.

5. The General Board recommends:

- I. That a Professorship of Geophysics be established in the University from 1 October 2019 for one year, placed in the Schedule to Special Ordinance C (vii) 1, and assigned to the Department of Earth Sciences.
- II. That a Nanjing Professorship of Technology and Innovation be established in the University from 1 April 2019, placed in the Schedule to Special Ordinance C (vii) 1, and assigned to the Department of Engineering.
- III. That a Professorship of Neuroendocrinology be established in the University for Professor Allan Herbison, from 2 September 2019, placed in the Schedule to Special Ordinance C (vii) 1, and assigned to the Department of Physiology, Development, and Neuroscience.

⁴ The Council, on the recommendation of the General Board, the Faculty Board of Physics and Chemistry and with the support of the current holder of the Cavendish Professorship of Physics, proposes the above changes to put in place three Managers for each Fund, including the Head of the Department of Physics as Chair.
