University Composition Fee payments by publicly-funded undergraduates: Notice

19 November 2012

The Council is putting forward a Grace to amend the regulations for University Composition Fees (Grace 1, p. 145). The amendment confirms the current arrangements whereby students not otherwise covered by provisions in the regulations pay fees at one third of the annual fee, and sets out two exceptions in which termly liability would be inappropriate. These changes have been prompted by an amendment to the pattern of payments made by the Student Loans Company from 1 December 2012.

REGULATIONS FOR EXAMINATIONS

Medical and Veterinary Sciences Tripos, Part IA

(Statutes and Ordinances, pp. 373–77)

With immediate effect

The Faculty Board of Biology give notice that from 1 October 2012 the regulations for Part IA of the Medical and Veterinary Sciences Tripos will be amended so to read:

18. The names of the candidates who obtain honours in Part IA shall be arranged in three classes, of which the second shall be divided into two divisions. The names in the first and third classes, and in each division of the second class, shall be arranged in alphabetical order.

Philosophy Tripos, Parts IB and II

(Statutes and Ordinances, p. 412)

With immediate effect

Under Regulations 12 and 13 of the Regulations for the Philosophy Tripos, candidates may transfer into Parts IB and II of the Tripos, having either previously obtained, or not previously obtained, honours in an Honours examination other than the Philosophy Tripos. Such candidates will in future be required to be examined in the same papers, and in the same number of papers, as candidates who have previously obtained honours in Parts IA and IB respectively of the Philosophy Tripos.

Regulation 5 (b).

By removing the current regulation and replacing it with the following so as to read:

(b) Subject to the provision of sub-paragraphs (c) and (d) of this regulation, a candidate for Part IB shall offer papers as follows:

either Papers 1, 2, and 9 and two papers from Papers 3–7;

or Papers 1, 2, and 8, and one paper from Papers 3–7.

The weighting of Paper 8, for those who offer it, shall be double that of other papers.

Regulation 7.

By removing the current regulation and replacing it with the following so as to read:

Except as provided in Regulation 8 below, a candidate for Part II shall offer papers as follows:

either (i) four papers from among Papers 1–11 and the papers specified in the Schedule to these regulations, and (ii) a dissertation offered in accordance with Regulation 9 or (i) four papers from among Papers 1–11 and the papers specified in the Schedule to these regulations, and (ii) Paper 12;

provided that a candidate who has previously obtained honours in Part II of the Classical Tripos or Part IIB of the Theological and Religious Studies Tripos shall not offer any paper that he or she offered in that examination.

The Faculty Board of Philosophy are satisfied that no candidate's preparation for the examination is adversely affected by this change.

FORM AND CONDUCT OF EXAMINATIONS, 2013

Notices by Faculty Boards, or other bodies concerned, of changes to the form and conduct of certain examinations to be held in 2013, by comparison with those examinations in 2012, are published below. Complete details of the form and conduct of all examinations are available from the Faculties or Departments concerned.

Rules for the guidance of candidates and for the prevention of misconduct in examinations: Notice

The Board of Examinations give notice that they have amended the rules for the guidance of candidates and for the prevention of misconduct in examinations (Statutes and Ordinances, p. 123) as follows:

By inserting the following as rule 14:

14. Candidates shall have regard for the welfare of others, including the general public, at the end of examination sessions (both their own sessions and those of others). In particular they should avoid: noise that might disturb active examinations or other work nearby; littering or damage, especially with food or drink; and obstructing highways or thoroughfares. Candidates shall comply with instructions given by University staff performing their duties.

Archaeological and Anthropological Tripos, Parts IIA and IIB, 2013

The Faculty Board of Human, Social, and Political Science give notice that with effect from the examinations to be held in 2013, the form of the examination for the following papers for Part IIA and Part IIB of the Archaeological and Anthropological Tripos will be as specified below:

Archaeology

Paper A3. Archaeological thought II

The weighting and examination of paper A3 has been changed and will consist of a three-hour examination in which candidates must answer three questions, and the submission of one essay not longer than 2,000 words in length. The examination will count for 80% (instead of 50%) of the final mark and the essay 20% (instead of 50%) of the final mark.

Paper A6. The Palaeolithic of the old world

The weighting of paper A6 has been changed so that the final written paper will count for 70% (instead of 80%) of the final mark, and the practical exam will count for 10% of the final mark. The practical project will remain as 20% of the final mark.

MES.4 Hebrew language A

The paper will consist of two sections. In Section A, question 1 will contain three grammar questions (5 marks each), question 2 will contain a passage of Biblical Hebrew for vocalization (10 marks) and translation into English (10 marks), and question 3 will contain a passage in English for translation into pointed Biblical Hebrew (25 marks). In Section B, there will be one question containing two seen passages for translation into English and for comment (20 marks for each passage). All questions must be answered.

MES.5 Hebrew language B

The paper will consist of five questions, all of which must be answered. There is also a compulsory oral. Question 1 will contain a passage of Biblical Hebrew for vocalization (8 marks) and translation into English (7 marks); question 2 will contain three questions on Modern Hebrew grammar (5 marks each); question 3 will contain one unseen passage for translation into English (15 marks); in question 4, candidates will be required to write a short composition in Modern Hebrew (15 marks); and question 5 will contain one seen passage for translation into English and for comment (15 marks: 8 for translation and 12 for comment). The oral (25 marks) will consist of (i) listening comprehension test (5 marks); (ii) reading comprehension test (10 marks); (iii) conversation test (10 marks).

PART IB

C.5. Modern Chinese texts 2

The paper consists of three literary and non-literary passages from unspecified modern Chinese texts for translation into English. Candidates are required to attempt all questions, which are of equal value. Copies of the Xiandai hanyu cidian will be provided.

MES.12. Intermediate Persian

This paper will contain two sections: a three-hour written examination (70 marks) and an oral examination (30 marks). The written examination will contain one passage of Persian on which candidates will be required to answer questions (30 marks); one passage of Persian for translation into English (15 marks); and one question requiring a piece of writing of about 200 words of Persian (25 marks). All questions should be attempted.

The oral examination will contain three sections. All timings are approximate and all oral examinations are recorded.

- (a) Dictation: candidates write down an unseen passage from dictation (10 marks, 20 minutes).
- (b) Listening Comprehension: candidates listen to a short passage in Persian and answer oral questions about it (10 marks, 10 minutes).
- (c) Presentation: Candidates have prepared several presentations on previously agreed topics (10 marks, 10 minutes).

MES.13. Intermediate Hebrew

This paper will be divided into two sections, at least one of which must be answered. Section A (Classical Hebrew) will contain four questions on Hebrew language (15 marks each) and two questions on specified texts (20 marks each). Section B (Modern Hebrew) will contain three questions on Hebrew language (15 marks each):

- Question 1: unseen Modern Hebrew passage for translation and linguistic analysis;
- Question 2: summary of a Modern Hebrew unseen passage;
- Question 3: composition in Modern Hebrew from a choice of three topics, two questions on specified texts (15 marks each), and an oral (25 marks).

Candidates offering one section only must answer all questions. Candidates studying both Classical Hebrew and Modern Hebrew must offer two language questions (15 marks each) and one specified text question (20 marks) from Section A and one language question (15 marks), one specified text question (15 marks), and oral (20 marks) from Section B.

The oral will consist of (i) translation and interpretation test (5 marks); (ii) listening comprehension test (5 marks); (iii) general oral ability test (15 marks; 10 marks for candidates offering both Classical and Modern Hebrew).

MES.15. Literary Persian

This paper will consist of two sections. Section A will contain four seen passages of Persian prose and poetry of which two must be translated and commented upon as indicated. Each translation will carry 15 marks, and each commentary will carry 10 marks. Section B will contain a choice of essay questions of which candidates must attempt to answer two. Each essay will carry 25 marks. Each candidate must attempt at least one question on modern literature, chosen from either Section A or Section B.

MES.18. Topics in Hebrew studies

The paper will contain three sections dealing respectively with (i) the reading traditions of Biblical Hebrew, (ii) the history of the Hebrew language, and (iii) The Hebrew Bible and Modern Hebrew Language and Literature. Each section will contain four questions. Candidates must choose two sections and answer two questions from each. The questions carry equal marks.

PART II

C.14. Advanced Chinese texts

This paper consists of a number of discrete sections linked to any special paper the student has chosen. Each section will consist of three unspecified Chinese texts for translation into English. Copies of a Chinese–Chinese dictionary will be supplied as follows: for students taking Paper C.16 a copy of the Gudai hanyu cidian will be supplied; for students taking Paper C.17, C.18, C.19, or C.20, copies of Xiandai hanyu cidian will be supplied.

J.12. Modern Japanese texts 3

This paper will consist of two sections. Section A consists of two unseen passages for translation from Japanese into English, of which students should translate one. Section B consists of three seen passages for translation from Japanese to English, of which students should translate two. Students must answer both sections. Copies of the dictionary Shinjigen will be available during the examination.

J.13. Advanced Japanese texts

This paper will consist of one unseen text, one seen text, and one passage for comment corresponding in each section of the paper. Copies of the dictionary Shinjigen will be available during the examination.

J.14. Classical Japanese texts

This paper consists of two sections. In Section A candidates will be required to translate one unseen passage from Japanese to English. In Section B candidates will be required to translate and/or comment on selected passages taken from texts covered during the year. The focus will be on prose texts.

EAS.2. The East Asian region

The course-work that constitutes this paper assessment consists of one research essay, of between 6,000 and 7,500 words, including footnotes and excluding bibliography. Each student will develop the topic of the essay in consultation with the instructor. A one-page topic and paper outline plus a bibliography will be due during the first class session of Lent Term. Two copies of the project shall be submitted to the Programmes Administrator in the Faculty Office so as to arrive not later than the division of Full Easter Term.

MES.32. Advanced Persian language

The examination consists of two parts: a three-hour written examination (70 marks) and an oral examination (30 marks). The written examination consists of two unseen passages of modern Persian for translation into English (20 marks each) and three topics for an essay of about 400 words in Persian, of which one must be attempted (30 marks). All questions must be attempted.

The oral examination consists of three sections. All timings are approximate and all oral examinations are recorded.

- (a) Dictation: Candidates write down an oral dictation from an unprepared passage (10 marks, 15 minutes).
- (b) Listening Comprehension: Candidates listen to a short passage in Persian and answer oral questions about it (10 marks, 10 minutes).
- (c) Presentation and discussion: Candidates speak about and discuss one topic selected at the time of the examination from a list of three, chosen and provided previously by themselves (10 marks, 20 minutes).

MES.35. Themes in Persian literature

This paper will consist of two sections. Section A will consist of four passages, of which candidates will be required to choose two for translation and analysis. Section B will consist of four essay questions, of which candidates will be required to attempt one. All questions carry equal marks. Each candidate must attempt at least one question on modern literature, chosen from either Section A or Section B.

MES.38. History of the modern Middle East

This paper will consist of eight questions, of which candidates will be required to answer three. All questions will carry equal marks. Two questions will contain options for thematic commentaries on Arabic texts.

MES.40. Special subject in the contemporary Middle East

The course-work that constitutes this paper assessment consists of one research essay, of between 6,000 and 7,500 words, including footnotes and excluding bibliography. Each student will develop the topic of the essay in consultation with the instructor. A one-page topic and paper outline will be due during the first class session of Lent Term. Two copies of the project shall be submitted to the Programmes Administrator in the Faculty Office so as to arrive not later than the third Friday of Full Easter Term.

Music Tripos, Part II, 2013

The Faculty Board of Music give notice that, with effect from the examinations to be held in 2013, the form of the examinations for certain papers for the Music Tripos will be changed as follows:

PART II

Paper 2. Advanced tonal composition

In the Advanced tonal composition portfolio, the tonal idiom should be appropriate to a period and place in Europe between 1780 and 1900. Candidates are required to submit a portfolio comprising one substantial composition, which should be either an instrumental work in four movements or an extended song cycle. The duration of the composition should be between twenty-five and thirty-five minutes.

Paper 14. Popular music and globalization

The examination will consist of two elements: the submission of a written research portfolio (including synopsis, ethnographic research essay, ethics review materials, and ethnographic permission form), and a two-hour written examination. The research portfolio counts as one third of the overall mark, and the exam element counts as two thirds of the overall mark. The two-hour examination will comprise two responses from a broader choice of questions.

Submission of title, synopsis, and ethical review form for approval

The title of the research portfolio must be submitted to the Chairman of Examiners so as to arrive not later than the division of the Michaelmas Term preceding the examination. Accompanying the title should be a 200-word synopsis of the research essay and the Faculty of Music's ethical review form.

Submission of the portfolio

The ethnographic research essay (which should be between 3,000 and 3,500 words in length, including footnotes but excluding bibliography and appendices) will describe and theorize global musical influences upon a local musical community chosen by the student and approved by the instructor. The submission is made in two stages, by the following deadlines:

1. Friday, 22 February 2013: candidates submit, in hard copy, the supplementary materials associated with the essay, including all ethnographic permission forms and primary source materials. Essays can be accepted for marking only after satisfactory submission of the complete supplementary materials.

2. Friday, 8 March 2013: candidates submit the research essay in hard copy and in electronic form.

Candidates for Part II must offer a combination of papers that is examined by at least six hours of written examination. Candidates should be aware that not all written examinations are three hours long and must ensure that they offer a legal combination of papers in this respect.

All other papers remain unchanged. Full details about examinations can be found at: <http://www.mus.cam.ac.uk/internal/students/undergraduate/examinations/>.

Politics, Psychology, and Sociology Tripos, Parts I, IIA, and IIB, 2013

The Faculty Board of Human, Social, and Political Science give notice that with effect from the examination to be held in 2013, the form of the examination for the following papers for Part I, Part IIA, and Part IIB of the Politics, Psychology, and Sociology Tripos will be as specified below:

PART I

Paper 1. Analysis of politics I (also serves as Paper 4C of Part I of the Archaeological and Anthropological Tripos and Paper 5(a) of Part IIA of the Economics Tripos)

The set texts for section three of the paper have been revised. Mary Wollstonecraft, A vindication of the rights of woman, and Michael Oakeshott, Rationalism in politics, have been added to make six authors in this section of the paper. Marx, Gandhi, and Nietzsche remain as set authors but the sections from Das Kapital, by Marx, The death of God, by Nietzsche, and Herder and the Enlightenment, by Berlin have been removed as specified set texts. There will be six questions in section three of the examination paper but the requirement will remain that students answer one question only from this section. A sample exam paper is available on the Faculty's website (<http://www.hsps.cam.ac.uk/pps/current/>).

PARTS IIA AND IIB

Politics and International Studies

Pol 3. The analysis of modern politics II: ethics and world politics

The case study in Part II of the course on 'The wealth and poverty of nations' has been replaced by one on 'The politics of the WTO'. The format of the examination remains unchanged.

Pol 4. The analysis of modern politics III: comparative politics

The subject of section (D) of the examination paper has been broadened to presidential elections in the US from 1968 to 2012. A new section (F) will be added on 'Environmental politics in China'. There will be two questions on each of these sections, making a total of 15 questions. All other aspects of the examination paper remain the same, and there is a new mock examination paper available on the Faculty's website (<http://www.hsps.cam.ac.uk/pps/current/>).

Pol 7. A subject in politics and international studies II: conflict and peace-building

The examination will consist of a three-hour written paper. Candidates will be required to answer three questions from a choice of at least twelve, including questions on conflict and questions on peace-building. There will be at least one question on Cambodia, one on Mozambique, and one on Iraq. The paper will be undivided.

Pol 12. A subject in politics and international studies VI: the politics of the international economy

The content of the paper has been revised such that topics on the euro-zone debt crisis have been replaced with a topic on the sovereign debt crisis. A sample examination paper is available on the Faculty's website (<http://www.hsps.cam.ac.uk/pps/current/>).

Sociology

Soc 10. A subject in sociology VI: medicine, body, and society

The examination will consist of a three-hour written paper. Candidates will be required to answer three questions from a choice of at least twelve, to be drawn from the content of all modules taught during the 2012–13 academic year.
