Grace for submission to the Regent House under Special Ordinance A (i) 5 (report on the advantages and disadvantages of a policy of divestment): Notice in response

22 April 2019

At its meeting on 15 April 2019, the Council considered the Grace initiated by 324 members of the Regent House (Reporter, 6543, 2018–19, p. 455).

The Council considers that ‘climate change is one of the most pressing problems facing humanity. Consistent with its mission to ‘contribute to society’, the University has a responsibility to use its position as one of the world’s foremost academic institutions to take a leading role in achieving a carbon neutral future’ (as stated in its response to the report of the Divestment Working Group; Reporter, 6511, 2017–18, p. 702). Underlining that responsibility, and in accordance with Special Ordinance A (i) 7, the Council has agreed to authorise submission of the Grace (Grace 1, p. 489). While responsibility for investment matters lies with the Council, the Council respects the Regent House’s entitlement to request such a report and is willing to provide one as described in the Grace.

In the preamble to the request for a report, the Grace suggests the dissatisfaction of the signatories with the Council’s response to Grace 1 of 11 January 2017. By way of reminder, the Council sets out below a summary of the key events following the approval of that Grace. In May 2017 the Council published the terms of reference and membership of a Divestment Working Group (DWG) which had been established to investigate the issues raised by Grace 1 of 11 January 2017 and report to the Council on its findings (Reporter, 6464, 2016–17, p. 509). The Council noted that a previous group had already carried out detailed work on the University’s investment practices and indicated that it had therefore asked the DWG to consider the question of disinvestment from businesses involved in fossil fuel extraction more broadly. It also asked the DWG to consult widely across the collegiate University. The Council thus made clear at the outset that there would be a broad focus for the work of the DWG.

The DWG conducted a written consultation exercise in September 2017 and held two town hall meetings in the Michaelmas Term 2017. The resulting report from the DWG and the Council’s response to it were published in the Easter Term 2018 (Reporter, 2017–18; 6507, p. 580; 6511, p. 702). The DWG’s report noted the arguments put forward to support a policy of divestment but concluded that a strategy of considered divestment was a more appropriate and constructive course for the University to take. The DWG noted that divestment and disengagement would deprive the University of its opportunity to influence and support changes in the strategies of fossil fuel companies. In its response to the DWG’s report, the Council endorsed the DWG’s policy of considered divestment and made a number of commitments in support of achieving a carbon neutral future. Those commitments included the establishment of a Centre for a Carbon Neutral Future to provide a focal point for evidence-based discussions on carbon policy between the University, the public, global business and government. They also provided for the appointment of an Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Officer to be a source of advice and expertise on ESG matters and to lead on applying ESG considerations to the University’s own investments. In these ways, the University would be able to provide leadership that played to its particular strengths in research and policy development.

In light of the Grace and building on the work of the DWG, the Council will now commission a report to look more deeply into the advantages and disadvantages of a policy of divestment. The areas to be explored, as set out in the Grace, are matters that fit well with the initial work that the ESG Officer would be expected to undertake. Part-time support has been agreed to enable work to commence in advance of a formal recruitment to the post. Working with others as appropriate, the ESG Officer (and the part-time support in the interim) would analyse the available research on the impact of a policy of divestment from companies whose business is wholly or substantially concerned with the extraction of fossil fuels compared to other investment policies. They will build on this knowledge through further research and contact with those in Cambridge and beyond. This is likely to involve close liaison with the Carbon Neutral Future Initiative (as the Centre is now termed) and colleagues in the wider Cambridge-based research community, as well as with the Investment Office, Cambridge Enterprise, Cambridge Innovation Capital and other relevant investors and investor bodies such as the Institutional Investors Group on Climate Change. This work would feed into the ESG Officer’s consideration of the impact and the financial, moral and reputational consequences of each of the options, including divestment. The work would also provide costed estimates of implementing a divestment policy initially and on its longer-term effects, both positive and negative, on the performance of the University’s investments. The Council emphasises that it wishes to receive an objective and independent assessment of these issues.

Provision will be made to seek input from members of the Regent House and from students. The Council will publish its report or a progress update by 16 October 2019.

Examinations, 2019

22 April 2019

As part of planning for the possibility of the UK exiting the EU in the absence of a withdrawal agreement, the Council has considered the impact on the University’s operations, including examinations. Because of the potential for disruption to examinations and a delay in the publication of lists of candidates who have satisfied the Examiners in particular examinations, the Council is submitting a Grace to the Regent House to limit the extent of any such delay and to deal with associated matters (Grace 2, p. 489).

Similar Graces have been approved in the past in anticipation of industrial action.

NOTICES BY THE GENERAL BOARDNanjing Professorship of Technology and Innovation22 April 2019*

Following the publication of the Report of the General Board, dated 15 February 2019, on the establishment of certain Professorships (Reporter, 6538, 2018–19, p. 418), the establishment of the above Professorship for a single tenure was approved by Grace 2 of 13 March 2019. The General Board has since become aware that the Report should have stated that the Professorship was to be established in perpetuity, with the Department of Engineering underwriting the costs, not for a single tenure.

The Board also takes this opportunity to clarify the arrangements for the post of Academic Director of the Cambridge University—Nanjing Centre of Technology and Innovation based in Nanjing. The Academic Director will be appointed by the Head of the Department of Engineering and will spend a minimum of three months in any one year at the Centre, but this will not necessarily be outside Full Term, as stated in the Report. The first person appointed to the Nanjing Professorship of Technology and Innovation is expected to hold the post of Academic Director of the Centre concurrently, but the two positions are not linked.

The Council, on the recommendation of the General Board, is publishing a Grace (Grace 3, p. 489) to amend the tenure of the Professorship.

FORM AND CONDUCT OF EXAMINATIONS

Notices by Faculty Boards, or other bodies concerned, of changes to the form and conduct of certain examinations to be held in 2019–20, by comparison with those examinations in 2018–19, are published below. Complete details of the form and conduct of all examinations are available from the Faculties or Departments concerned.

Second M.B. Examination: Preparing for Patients C and D

The Faculty Board of Biology and the Faculty Board of Clinical Medicine give notice that, with effect from the examinations in 2019–20, the form and conduct of the Preparing for Patients (C and D) element of the Second M.B. Examination (Curriculum Regulations) will be as follows:

Preparing for Patients C

Six compulsory coursework tasks based on community visits to a voluntary (healthcare-related) organisation and an alternative therapy practitioner arranged by candidates in the Long Vacation are required. Coursework as specified in the handbook should be submitted by 4 p.m. on the first day of the Full Michaelmas Term following the vacation in which the visits took place. The tasks will require students to:

- (i) understand and critically appraise the services provided to support people with health problems by the agency visited in the community;
- (ii) consider how these services interface with the work of primary and secondary health care teams;
- (iii) reflect on how visiting this agency has affected their understanding of the provision of health care in society.

Attainment of the qualifying standard in this component of the Second M.B. Preparing for Patients (PFP) Examination will depend on both satisfactory overall rating of coursework and attendance on the course.

Supporting material will be provided.

Preparing for Patients D

A reflective essay as specified in the handbook based on the home visits arranged by candidates in the Michaelmas and Lent Terms will be required. Coursework should be submitted by 4 p.m. on the last Tuesday of Lent Term. The tasks will require students to:

- (i) reflect on their experience of building a deeper understanding of a family through a number of meetings;
- (ii) understand the experience of pregnancy for a woman and her family, to appreciate the different professionals involved in maternity care;
- (iii) relate the woman's experience to underlying core science relevant to medicine.

Attainment of the qualifying standard in this component of the Second M.B. Preparing for Patients (PFP) Examination will depend on both satisfactory overall rating of the written part and attendance on the course.

Supporting material will be provided.

GRACES

Graces submitted to the Regent House on 25 April 2019

The Council submits the following Graces to the Regent House. These Graces, unless they are withdrawn or a ballot is requested in accordance with the regulations for Graces of the Regent House (Statutes and Ordinances, p. 105), will be deemed to have been approved at 4 p.m. on Friday, 3 May 2019.

1. Grace 1 of 11 January 2017 called for the University to divest its Endowment from companies whose business is wholly or substantially concerned with the extraction of fossil fuels. The Regent House notes that in its response to the Grace, the Council announced its intention to commission a report specifically into the advantages and disadvantages of the policy of divestment which the Grace supports.

The Regent House has not received such a report because the terms of reference of the Divestment Working Group (DWG) did not refer to advantages or disadvantages of divestment but asked for a broader consideration of the issues. The Council's response, published on the 20 June 2018 similarly did not weigh the advantages and disadvantages but rather stated the Council's opposition to a policy of divestment, and passed on to other matters.

The Regent House therefore directs the Council to produce a report to the University that will

1. set out fully the advantages and disadvantages, including the social and political ones, of a policy of divestment from fossil fuels,
2. assess the moral acceptability of a University committed to educating future generations, and whose core values include sustainability, benefitting from investments in fossil fuels that threaten that future,
3. provide costed estimates of the effects, positive and negative, on the performance of the University's investments of such a policy,
4. provide a full assessment of the reputational effects, positive and negative, of a policy of divestment,
5. provide, as requested by the Grace of 11 January 2017, costed details of possible strategies for how the University might divest from fossil fuels.

Such a report should be compiled with appropriate Regent House and student input. It should be completed within 6 months, or failing that an interim report with a detailed timeline to completion should be produced.¹

2. That, in respect of any examination held in the Easter Term 2019,

- (a) the Registry may, notwithstanding the regulations for the publication of lists of successful candidates in examinations (Statutes and Ordinances, p. 252),
 - (i) accept and publish a list later than the latest day or time prescribed by Ordinance;
 - (ii) accept and publish a list that has been signed by a majority but not by all of the Examiners present;
 - (iii) accept and publish any amended list;
- (b) the Examiners may, notwithstanding those regulations and the regulations for the examination concerned, include the names of some or all of the candidates under any of the following headings:
 - (i) Declared to have deserved honours: to be classified later.
 - (ii) Candidates successful in the examination: to be classified later.
 - (iii) Candidates on whom no decision has yet been reached because of insufficient evidence.
 - (iv) Candidates to whose names a distinctive mark may be attached in an amended list.²

3. That the Nanjing Professorship of Technology and Innovation be established in perpetuity, as noted in the General Board's Notice dated 22 April 2019.³

¹ Grace initiated by members of the Regent House under Special Ordinance A (i) 5; see Reporter, 6543, 2018–19, p. 455 and the Council's Notice in response, p. 486.

² See the Council's Notice, p. 486.

³ See the General Board's Notice, p. 488.

4. That, in the regulations for the Pembroke Visiting Professor of International Finance Fund (Statutes and Ordinances, p. 737), the Fund be retitled the Pembroke International Finance Fund, the regulations for the Fund transferred to Chapter XII of the Ordinances, Regulation 3 be amended and new Regulation 8 inserted as follows, with existing Regulation 8 renumbered as 9, and cross-references to the Fund and to numbered regulations updated:⁴

3. A Visiting Professor shall from time to time be elected by the General Board under the authority of Special Ordinance C (vii) B.1(c)(iv), on the advice of a Committee comprising the Master of Pembroke College or a member of the College's Fellowship Committee appointed by that Committee (who shall be Chair), the Director of the Judge Business School, one person appointed by the Faculty Board of Business and Management, a senior Fellow of Pembroke College nominated by the Master of Pembroke College and appointed by the College's Fellowship Committee, and one external member experienced in international finance co-opted for such periods as the Committee shall determine, up to a maximum of five years at a time.

8. The fourth charge on the income of the Fund shall be to support Pembroke Studentships in International Finance, to be awarded by the Managers of the Fund under such terms as the Managers shall determine.

⁴ The Council, on the recommendation of the General Board and the Managers, and with the support of Pembroke College and the anonymous donor, is proposing an amendment made under Statute E I 8 to enable studentships to be awarded from the surplus income of the Fund. Changes to the title of the Fund and the composition of the Committee which advises the General Board on the appointment are also being put forward.

Graces to be submitted to the Regent House at a Congregation on 27 April 2019

The Council has sanctioned the submission of the following Graces to the Regent House at a Congregation to be held on 27 April 2019:

That the following person be admitted to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy by incorporation:

1. ELIZABETH JOAN HOWELL, Fellow of Magdalene College, Doctor of Philosophy of the University of Oxford (2019).

That the following persons be admitted to the degree of Master of Arts under the provisions of Statute B II 2:

2. MUSTAFA NABIL BEG, Computer Officer in the Faculty of Music.
